Accused Testifies Assertions As to Conspiracy All Untrue

TRIAL IS MARKED BY CLASHES OF COUNSEL

Alleged Incident at L. A. Hotel Never Occurred, Is Testimony

Denying, in every detail, extended testimony of Thomas McGrath, contestant witness, who had accused Miss Marie Feraud, chief contestee and beneficiary in the $250,000 will of the late General J. O. Royer, contest over which is being waged in superior court, Miss Feraud today testified in an attempt to impeach McGrath.

Her testimony was marked by periodical battles between counsel, Mattison Jones for the contestees, and W. E. Meserve for the contestants.

Miss Feraud denied positively that she or Frank M. Wilcox, attorney, ever offered McGrath $5,000 to testify for them; that she, in a telephone conversation, testified to by McGrath and Attorney W. V. Anderson, ever offered him $2,500; that she made any offers at all.

Denies Hotel Incident

She denied in toto, having been present at the Alexandria hotel, when, McGrath said, she fainted at his refusal to accept the $2,500. "When was veronal last administered to General Royer, before September 18, when the will was signed?" Jones asked the witness.

"On the night of the 15th," was the reply.

"Was morphine ever administered to the general between September 15 and 18?" Jones asked. "Indeed not!" was the emphatic reply, as Miss Feraud, accustomed to speak in a soft voice, almost shouted the answer.

"Was any bromide administered after September 15?" was the next question.

"Not until after the will had been signed," the woman replied.

As To Other Testimony

Then, switching to other testimony made by McGrath, Jones asked her if at any time she had attempted to prevent Max Royer, a son, and one of the contestants, from seeing his father. This she denied.

When the impeachment testimony was introduced by Jones, Meserve objected, stating that McGrath's statements regarding the asserted bribes had resulted from cross-examination by contestee counsel, and that as a result, the contestees could not impeach that testimony.

The court concurred that this part was correct, but ruled for the contestees because much question of veracity and bias had entered into the case.

Man's Legs Amputated By Trolley at Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 14.—Both legs of S. R. Baguelli, truck driver, were amputated and he was dragged 90 feet when a Long Beach interurban car struck his truck, demolishing it. He will probably die, physicians said.

The accident took place shortly before noon in the outskirts of Long Beach. The interurban was traveling at high speed and failed to slow down for the crossing, on-lookers said.

8 Alleged Radicals Arrested at Harbor

SAN PEDRO, Calif., May 14.—Eight alleged radicals were in jail here today on charges of criminal syndicalism, following a demonstration before the police station in which the release of "Red" McLaughlin, alleged radical leader, was demanded. Police today laid plans to prevent recurrence of such scenes and banned public meetings on Liberty hill, where laborites and their sympathizers have been accustomed to meet during the course of the marine transport workers' strike.

Chinese Officials Prepare For Parley With Brigand Band

Miss Lucy T. Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller Jr., and daughter of the late United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, captured by Chinese bandits who held up a Shanghai-Pekin express train near the Shantung border and carried off more than 100 passengers, many of them Americans; later released, with other women passengers, and suffering from exposure at Pin Cheng, near the scene of the hold-up.—Photo by Bert Horton Studio, Providence.

PEKIN, May 14.—(9:30 p. m.)—China today asked the powers for more time in which to secure release of foreigners held for ransom by Shantung bandits.

In applying for extension of an ultimatum, delivered by foreign diplomats, demanding that the captives be immediately freed, the Chinese government declared it had offered the bandits full compliance with their terms, together with guarantees.

The brigands constantly changed their demands, it is stated, and now insist on cash in hand and withdrawal of government troops that surrounded them before the prisoners are freed. They wish it to be left to their honor to release the captives.

(By United Press Leased Wire) PEKIN, May 14.—An expedition of government officials, amply provided with money, is due from Lin Cheng tonight to conclude negotiations with the bandits who kidnapped foreigners and natives from the Pekin express May 6.

The officials were heavily guarded, no chances being taken on other bandits seizing the ransom money.

It is learned from reliable authority that the bandits originally demanded $50,000 ransom for each foreign captive and $5,000 for each Chinese, but because several of the white men were subsequently released, the total demanded has been reduced to $5,000 for all prisoners.

The diplomatic corps has not announced the amount of the progressive indemnity to be imposed upon China for each 24 hours that elapses before release of the prisoners, following expiration of the ultimatum of the powers, Saturday midnight. It is believed the Washington government is fully informed on this point.

J. A. Henley, who was released from the brigands' camp but who returned bringing messages and supplies, is still held by the outlaws. The prisoners are now plentifully supplied with food, clothing, cigarettes and drinks, and none of them are believed to be suffering.

Officials In Hazing Death Probt Look Into 'Fixing' Rumors

(By United Press Leased Wire) CHICAGO, May 14.—The grand jury probing the death of Leighton Mount will be asked today to investigate the death of Louis Aubere, killed in an automobile accident as the alleged sequel to a hazing episode, the state's attorney's office announced today.

The action will be in view of obtaining manslaughter indictments against those students accused by Roscoe Conklin Fitch, at one time Mount's room mate, of purposely zig-zagging an automobile so as to bring about a collision, causing Aubere's death. John Sbarbaro, assistant state's attorney, said.

The state's attorney's office also announced it had obtained confessions from students of Northwestern university, involving school officials, that a campaign of campus gossip and anonymous letters has been waged to "hush up" the Mount case and advance a theory of suicide on the campus.

Assistants of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe named James M. Patterson, star athlete, as one of the students who admitted attempting to spread a suicide theory.

Louis Henke, a fraternity leader, was declared by Crowe to have admitted writing an anonymous letter to the state's attorney's office containing "suicide propaganda."

Crowe in asserting there is "no power on earth strong enough to stop this investigation," also announced that he is trying to trace "campus gossip" that state's officials had been "fixed."

The grand jury resumed its probe today. Authorities continued to question "Fitch A. Ludington," Michigan youth who Saturday night repudiated he knew "fall about Mount's death, but was sworn to secrecy."

Fred Stone Is Evangelist On Broadway

NEW YORK, May 14.—Broadway, which knew Fred Stone for 20 years as an inimitable master of fun, met Fred Stone, evangelist, for the first time last night and liked him.

Stone, who recently "got religion" while in Montana, came here to take part in the National Vaudeville Artists' benefit. Six thousand persons in the audience saw only the old Fred as the comedian come on and "do his stuff"—a lively buck and wing. He wound up all smiles at the roar of applause.

But instead of doing another dance as an encore, Stone grew serious. He walked down to the footlights.

"I've got something to tell you folks," he said, softly. And then he told them the story of his conversion. Broadway listened in respectful silence at first. Then, as Stone finished his story, repeating that he was going to become "an active worker for God," applause which would have drowned that which greeted his clown act, filled the auditorium.

MAGNATE OF 'PIGGLY' IN SALE PLAN

Half of Stores to Be Sold to Pay Off Wizard Saunders' Personal Obligations.

(By United Press Leased Wire) MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 14.—Headquarters for Piggy Wiggly, Inc., will remain in Memphis, home town of Clarence Saunders, who fought his way from a four dollar a week grocery clerk to president of the big chain groceries.

The Piggy Wiggly magnate made this "final announcement today, following failure of the home town drive to unload 50,000 shares of stock and pay off creditors who backed him in his recent raid on Wall street "shorts". Saunders announced also his latest plans for financial re-organization of the grocery chain. Approximately half of the 600 grocery stores in operation throughout the country will be sold to raise funds to pay off Saunders' personal obligations.

All sessions are to be secret. To Adjust Difficulties

The purpose of the conference, it is announced, is to open "discussion directed to adjustment of difficulties arising from application of American laws and to afford personal intermediaries of the presidents of the United States and Mexico opportunity, free from diplomatic restrictions and from the traditional trappings of formal intercourse, to speak freely and sincerely on the relations of the two countries."

At the conclusion of the conference the delegates will make recommendations to their respective countries.

The parley, it is estimated, is likely to last from three weeks to three months.

BATTLE AS TO ANAHEIM P. O. JOB RAGES

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States government expects recognition of the Obregon government of Mexico to result from the negotiations opening today in Mexico City between commissioners of the two governments.

How long the task will last, officials could not foresee, but they counseled patience, because of the intricacy and number of the problems involved. Both sides are eager for an agreement, officials here pointed out and the conference opened under the most favorable auspices in this regard.

Will Exhume Bodies of Two Thought Poisoned

NEWARK, N. J., May 14.—Official authority will be obtained today to exhume the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Creighton, in the investigation of charges that they were poisoned by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Creighton Jr.

The latter is locked up in Essex county jail, formally charged in a grand jury investigation with having murdered her 18-year-old brother, Charles Raymond Avery, by giving him arsenic in small doses.

The alleged poisoner, an attractive looking woman of 24, and her husband, an office worker, were jailed Saturday a few hours after they had been indicted. Both denied the charge.

'Gold Coast' Hat Price War Delights Women

CHICAGO, May 14.—A price war turned fashionable North Shore millinery shops into a feminine paradise today.

Rival milliners, after bombs were thrown, resorted to price slashing to wipe out competitors. Where women, a short time ago, crowned her glory with a chapeau costing up to $25—vanity considered—there appeared in windows cards proclaiming "any hat in the store $5."

Two or three more zealous stores cut to $3 on the same basis.

The "price war" began among Gold Coast establishments primarily because there was too many of them.

As cut after cut was announced, two stores were bombed. Police attributed the blasts to sympathizers of rival concerns.

The bombs also blew the prices down farther, climaxing today in the $3 minimum.

The stores were crowded with bargain hunters.

SIX BURNED TO DEATH IN PLANE BLAZE

London-to-Paris Air Liner Catches Fire, Crashes to Earth at Amiens.

AMIENS, France, May 14.—Six persons were burned to death when a London-to-Paris passenger airplane caught fire in mid-air and crashed to earth today.

One American was among the passengers who were burned as the big plane fell flaming to the ground. He was Laurence Schwab of Oelrichs and company, New York City.

The last serious accident on this air route, which is used by many Americans traveling between the French and British capitals, occurred when two planes collided in mid air and fell in flames.

The speed of the journey, 2 hours and 15 minutes, has made the air line increasingly popular, especially with business men from the United States, and an average of ten a day take planes for Paris or London. The cost has been reduced and the luxury and safety of the machines increased.

'30" BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The "big five" were flattened by the steam roller of the "little three" at a special meeting of the directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league here today. Called by President William H. McCarthy at the request of J. Cal Ewing of Oakland; J. H. Patrick of Los Angeles; William H. Lane of Salt Lake; Charles Lockard of Seattle, and Fred Rivers, representing Gus Moser of Portland, the meeting lasted less than one hour. Today's meeting means that the Coast league will operate for the remainder of the season without restoring the draft, without changing the player or salary limit, and without any changes of any kind.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, survivors of the heavyweight carnival here last Saturday, have virtually been matched to meet here June 30, Tex Rickard announced today. Rickard will meet with the two boxers at 11 o'clock tomorrow and discuss terms. Willard told Rickard this morning he is willing to meet Firpo, that the June 30 date was satisfactory and that he would sign an agreement if the terms were right. Firpo has agreed to terms, Rickard said.

Thousands of Dollars of Damage Done to Crops, Is Report

SWEETWATER, Texas, May 14.—Fourteen persons are known to have been killed by a cyclone which cut a swath a mile wide west of here early today.

Eleven bodies have been taken to Colorado, Texas, 30 miles west of here, and three others have been recovered at Lorraine, ten miles this side of Colorado.

According to estimates received at Sweetwater, the death toll may reach 25.

Fire apparatus left here shortly after noon for Colorado after reports had been received that the town was ablaze. Other reports denied that the town was burning. Wires between Sweetwater and Colorado are severely crippled.

COLORADO, Texas, May 14.—Twenty-five persons were killed and nearly 100 injured when a cyclone struck here early today. W. H. Cooper, head of the local Chamber of Commerce, estimated after a preliminary survey.

The Colorado sanitarium is filled with injured who are being rushed here from the storm area. Many of the injured are in a serious condition and are expected to die.

The cyclone ripped through Mitchell and Howard counties in the Texas Panhandle, while residents were still in their beds, leaving death and destruction in its wake.

The cyclone swept through the two counties, cutting a wide swath and then passed on in a northeasterly direction.

Dead and injured were rushed here and to other nearby towns and Cooper declared a complete check of casualties could not be completed for several hours.

Many Children Die

Many of the dead are children, according to Cooper, who said the cyclone cut a path one mile in width. The storm originated near Richardson, south of here, and extended to a point near Lorraine, 15 miles away.

Rescue parties have been sent from here and Lorraine into the stricken area, but these have not given a report to authorities here. All telephone lines to homes in that district are down.

"Many of the best farm homes in Mitchell county have been reduced to debris and the property loss will run high," Cooper said. "Thousands of dollars damage was done to crops."

SWEETWATER, Texas, May 14.—Fire broke out at Colorado, Texas, today, following a disastrous cyclone that is reported to have killed many persons in that section earlier.

Fire trucks left here immediately for Colorado.

Unconfirmed reports say the entire town is ablaze. Details were not given in a call received from the stricken town asking for all aid possible, including doctors and nurses.

A telegraph company managed to get a dispatch from Colorado through to the United Press earlier, but efforts to get that city by telephone or telegraph now are futile.

SWEETWATER, Texas, May 14.—Three persons are known to be dead as the result of a tornado which swept Mitchell county, thirty miles west of here, today, according to advices received here. Reports have indicated the death toll may run higher. Communication with the stricken area has been cut off as all wires are down.

The section between Lorraine and Colorado, Texas, was swept by the storm, the report here said. Telegraph wires were cut and details of the damage could not be learned.

Details Meager

The disturbance centered around Big Springs, reports said. Big Springs was cut off from communication, according to officials of the telephone and telegraph companies.

Seeks to Prevent Accident to Planes When They Land

LONDON, May 12.—Many air crashes are due to the collapse of the undercarriage, and with the object of reducing the danger of bad landings, writes Maj. W. T. Blake to The London Daily News, Avros have been experimenting with a new type, capable of withstanding tremendous odds.

An Avro pilot, Mr. Hinkler, recently showed the strength of this undercarriage by losing flying speed at a height of about 20 feet from the ground, and deliberately "pancaking" the machine on the aerodrome.

Strengthened by rubber block buffers, the undercarriage absorbed the shock which in an ordinary aeroplane would have shaken the wings off.

Similarly the pilot flew to the ground almost nose on, maneuvering which would normally pitch the machine on its propeller, cause it to turn turtle and become an absolute wreck—but the undercarriage took the shock also and no damage resulted.

JURY SOON TO GET GIRL'S CRASH SUIT

With medical testimony, calculated to show that Miss Marguerite Lloyd might never recover from her injuries sufficiently to permit her to bear children, featuring the morning session, the $75,000 damage suit of the Lloyds against the Boulevard Express company, and King Mitchell, driver, resulting from an accident near Tustin last fall, was expected to go to a jury late today or early tomorrow.

Dr. A. Galvin, expert, displayed lantern slides, with the aid of a stereoscope, which were calculated to show the extent of Miss Lloyd's injuries.

Attorneys A. E. Koepsel and Z. B. West Jr. represented the plaintiffs, while Los Angeles counsel represented the transport company.

The O'Brien Ford is headed for a stop at North Platte, Neb., and a longer stay at Council Bluffs, Ia. The Post Dodge is to stop in Colorado for a time and will then make its way to Indianapolis, Ind.

The travelers expect to be gone from Santa Ana about three months.

American Electric Firms In Japan to Have Competition

TOKIO, May 12.—The great American electric companies which, through their Japanese affiliated companies, have up to the present done the bulk of the business in Japan, are to have further competition.

The German firm of Siemens Schukert has combined with the Furukawa Electric Industrial Co. and a larger factory is to be built near Yokohama, according to the local press. The Japanese company will supply the capital, and the German one will furnish experts and patent rights.

PHYSICAL ED. HEAD PAYS FINAL VISIT

Arthur J. Schuettnier, assistant state supervisor of physical education, today made his last official visit to review the physical education activities of Santa Ana schools, he said. Schuettnier, as a member of the state supervisory department of physical education, will be out of a job, he said, when the governor's budget goes into force.

"Santa Ana Schools," Schuettnier said following his official tour here, "have as fine a physical education course and staff of physical education instructors as are to be found in the state."

He addressed a meeting of physical education instructors of Santa Ana schools at the junior high school here this afternoon.

By the terms of the governor's budget, which has slashed many appropriations for school purposes and eliminated a number of departments, state supervision of physical education in the schools will not be operative in the next fiscal year.

Veteran Returns Home After Being 'Dead' Six Years

LOVELAND, Colo., May 12.—Six years after he had been reported killed in action in France while with the marines, William Lee on walking into the Lee home here.

Explanations were in order following the rejoicing. Lee, who took part in several of the bitterest offensives of the American forces on the western front, said that he believed the report that he was killed was due to the loss of a member of his company whose name was similar. Lee had been in the marines the entire six years and at the expiration of his enlistment recently went to Hutchinson, Kan., the Lee family home at the time he enlisted. He found the family had moved here and, learning something of the mystery of his disappearance, decided to save his reappearance for a grand climax here.

TRADE OFFSPRING OF CAT AND FOX

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 12.—Three tiny silver-black foxes opened their eyes at the Great Falls fox farm on the outskirts of this city recently and found that for nine days they had been receiving nourishment not from their own mothers, but from two cats, both of which had kittens the day before the foxes were born. And what's more, George Woolf, superintendent of the fox farm, has fooled the mother cats for nine days, and they are still in the land of the innocent.

At their birth the full litters of kittens were hastily removed and the three fox pups substituted. The cat mothers never noticed the difference and have been tenderly nursing the foxes, licking their glossy black backs for days.

The two mother cats rest in the warm sunshine in a barrel, with the fox pups, and contentedly meow. To the onlooker there is little difference between the motherless kittens and the pups—a single touch of silver gray on the tails of the baby foxes alone distinguishing them from the kittens.

According to Superintendent Woolf—what's in a name at a fox farm, anyway—cats make good mothers. He said that often when kittens are taken away from cats they run into the open, adopting the offspring of rabbits and gophers to fill the mother instinct. The Great Falls farm now boasts 11 full-grown and 30 baby foxes, and the stock is on the way with additional offspring. Food of the animals consists of prepared biscuits, eggs, horse meat and young gophers and rabbits.

Historic Ship Burned As Sale Efforts Burned

SEATTLE, Wash., May 14.—A pile of ashes lies on the beach at Endolyn, marking the last resting place of glory of the seas, historic clipper ship of fact and fiction. She was burned yesterday afternoon by C. G. Tackaberry after failure of efforts to sell her as a historic relic.

It was the Glory of the Seas that made the unsurpassed record of 90 days around the horn from New York to San Francisco. She was built in 1869 in East Boston by Donald McKay.

Her former master, Andrew Lind, still makes Seattle as a common seaman aboard one of the newer vessels which drove ships of the Glory's type from the high seas and left them derelicts to be burned on deserted beaches.

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 14.—The senate will again take up the Morrison-Pedrotti boxing amendment as one item on the week's calendar. The measure, passed in the assembly, with notice of a reconsideration coming. Supporters of the proposition have been active seeking additional support for it. The Hawes six-round measure is also up for senate consideration.

It is believed that the senate will pass, with little opposition, the Woodbridge anti-cropping measure, aimed at the Japanese. Berry growers are working in opposition to the bill, but it is thought probable the upper house will soon approve it.

The assembly will also face a Japanese regulation law in the form of the Inman measure eliminating foreign language schools, which the senate passed early last week. Its approval in the lower house is anticipated.

The Breed motor vehicle measures will perhaps meet some opposition when they come up for assembly consideration. They constitute the most important pieces of motor legislation passed in recent years, including a two-cent tax on each gallon of gasoline sold in California.

SAYS RAILWAYS ARE NEARING NORMALCY

NEW YORK, May 12.—The nation's railroads have already advanced a great step in their national program to get back on their feet, according to E. E. Loomis, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad. They have:

Cut their cost of operation a billion dollars a year, two-thirds of which came from increased efficiency and economy of operation.

Moved a great traffic in 1922 with only 1,645,000 employees, as against 2,012,000 in 1920.

Kept wages well above the cost of living.

Cut the country's freight bill half a billion dollars.

"No other basic industry can show more creditable progress during the last three years," Loomis declared, "despite the fact that the railroads were denied any share in the high commodity values of the war period."

'WOMAN-HATERS' IS NEW COLLEGE CLUB

LIMA, Ohio, May 12.—A "Woman Haters' club" has been organized by two anti-sheiks at Central high school here. The club has two members—youth chaps who, disgusted with girls, brazenly allege they are on the warpath.

Actions of the members are governed by an elaborate constitution. The boys are not permitted to speak to any girl until first addressed. They cannot make a "date" without unanimous consent of the members.

If any insult is directed toward the club or any of its members the club laws decree that the offender shall be punished by application of a special paddle, which occupies a conspicuous place in the office of "The Mirror," the school paper issued by the pupils.

"Nix on the Women!" is the club's slogan; also, the members' declaration of independence. Many students can testify to having received the paddle chastisement. It is reported that several girls have been spanked—showing the earnestness of the anti-feminine clique.

The organization has created quite a stir among the students, especially the girls. A number of flappers retaliated by forming a "Man Haters' club." The mode of punishment chosen by the feminine club members is that of "idle chatter," or tattling on their victims. This, they claim, is more effective than that used by the boys, though not so violent.

GIRLS CLAIM THEY WERE BOUGHT FOR $50

CICAGO, May 14.—Police of Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, are investigating the stories of two 19-year-old girls that they were sold into a life of vice to a roadhouse five miles out on a country road. The price the woman received was $50, the girls said.

FRANCE HAS PHONE TO REACH 82 PERSONS

PARIS, May 14.—Contrasting with the United States, which has one telephone for every eight inhabitants, France has one only for every 82. A writer in the Quotidien states that France is eighteenth on the list of telephonic development, coming after Cuba and Uruguay. There are only 173,000 telephones in Paris and not many more than that number in the rest of France.

RAIL WORKERS PAY BOOSTED 30 MILLION

CHICAGO, May 14.—Railroads, endeavoring to hold workers during the summer, have granted wage increases totaling approximately $20,000,000 yearly within the last few weeks, according to figures compiled here.

Negotiations now under way involve advance of approximately $50,000,000 annually additional.

The Great Northern railroad is the latest to join ranks of lines increasing pay substantially. Announcement was made of increases totaling $1,000,000 annually for maintenance-of-way workers.

Shop workers, boiler-makers, mechanics, clerks and other such classes of workers have been granted advances on other lines. Among railroads which had previously announced increases for certain workmen were the Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, ashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and the Chicago and Alton.

These increases were granted either voluntarily or through negotiations directly between union heads and railroad officials without labor board.

The search was instigated by consular advices said to have come from Ceylon, to the effect that attempts were being made to smuggle sapphires into this country.

BLAME FOCH AND CURZON IN KILLING

MOSCOW, Russia, May 14.—Marshall Foch of France and Lord Curzon, foreign minister of England, were today charged with responsibility for the assassination of Vorovsky, soviet delegate to the Near East peace conference at Lausanne.

"I consider the murder as a consequence of hate created by Lord Curzon's bellicose note simultaneously with Marshal Foch's visit to Poland," declared M. Karakhan, acting minister of foreign affairs, today. He added: "They aroused hatred by their campaign against the admission of Vorovsky to the Lausanne conference, for which Lord Curzon was mainly responsible."

Great Britain was assailed in hundreds of meetings throughout soviet Russia last night.

Marks Drop as Note to Germany Revealed

LONDON, May 14.—German marks dropped to 215,000 to the pound sterling on the London exchange today, in response to Great Britain's note to Germany regarding reparations.

The note advised the Cuno government that its latest proposals were inadequate and suggested a larger sum than 30,000,000 gold marks with adequate guarantees, be offered.

Italy also sent a supplementary reply to the German proposals and censured Germany for not making an offer that could be a satisfactory basis for negotiations.

HEALTH TALK NO. 41
—By J. G. Kelly, D. C.—

You can get better service and longer life out of anything you possess by taking better care of it.

The same is true of the human body. It is your most precious possession. It occasionally needs repairs. If those repairs are not made just when needed, the usefulness, comfort and life of the body are to that extent injured.

When your car, or your watch, or other valued possessions go on the junk piles, you can buy new ones—provided you have the money.
But when your body reaches that stage you can't go out and buy a new one no matter how much money you have.
All the more reason then that you should take care of it while you have the chance.

Nature will provide you with plenty of warning signs when something is wrong with the body. It is for you to heed these warnings, and act in time that you may preserve your body for a longer time, and for greater comfort during life.
Let me show you how the condition of your entire body depends upon the condition of your spine. Consultation and spinal analysis free. Convince yourself that our claims are well founded.

TELLS AIMS OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

Outing the plans of the Community Service league of which she is director, Miss Mildred E.
Wiley was principal speaker at today's luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's club at St.
Ann's Inn where she was introduced by Miss Verdelle Breckinridge, chairman of the entertainment committee for the day.

Associated with Miss Wiley on the program was Miss Berenice Bull, who gave several lively piano selections and also played accompaniments for community singing.

Stating that the work under the Community Service league was only in its infancy in this city, Miss Wiley told of the plans which the executive committee would discuss at a meeting tomorrow night in the council chambers at the city hall. One of the chief aims of the league will be to provide playgrounds with directors in various sections of the city. Four sites are now under consideration, including a lot adjoining the Excelsior Creamery company plant, one the city camp ground and one the old brick yard.

It has not yet been decided, however, whether it would be advisable to choose such sites and put them in order for playgrounds, or continue the work begun by the P.
T. A. and use the school-grounds and their present equipment, declared the speaker.

Miss Doris Robbins, president of the club, in a short talk preceding the program, spoke of federating with the state organization and sending a delegate to the annual convention to be held in San Diego in June. The matter met with favorable attention and will probably be carried to a successful conclusion at next Monday's luncheon.

LAW MAKING IN LOWER HOUSE IS DELAYED

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—Members of the assembly, late in returning from week end outing, delayed law making in the lower house during the early session today.

Presence of only a bare quorum precluded consideration of any bills over which a contest loomed, and only minor measures and resolutions were called.

Resolutions adopted by the assembly included:
West, memorializing the war department to order employment of World War veterans at the Saw-telle soldiers' home.

Sharkey, asking congress to bar from entering the United States all aliens ineligible to citizenship.
Sharkey, requesting President Harding to attempt to settle the railroad shopmen's strike called last year.

Inman and others, memorializing congress to enact laws enabling the states to pass minimum wage legislation.

Lewis, approving amendments to the charter of Los Angeles.
Johnson, A. B., approving Pasadena city charter amendments.

Included in the few senate bills the assembly passed was one by Sharkey making it a misdemeanor to furnish fraudulent information to newspapers.

Receive Campaign Report
The senate today received the report of the Jones committee named early in the session to investigate the expenditures of factions favoring or opposing initiative measures on the ballot last fall.

The report disclosed that at least $1,067,706 was spent in the campaign for the seven principal measures on the ballot. No recommendation other than "pithless publicity" for all campaign funds is contained in the report.

The report sets forth that large sums of money were spent during the pre-election campaign and indicates that misleading methods were used in securing votes for or against the different measures.

The report substantiates the latter claim by stating that high sounding names were used by some of the organizations engaged in fight while prominent persons, labor leaders and well known citizens were engaged as campaigners.

The water and power bill entitled the greatest expenditure, the report shows. Proponents used $509,990.05 during the campaign while the opposition spent $501, 605.63.

Senator Jones, Eden, Rominger and Nelson, comprising the entire membership of the committee, signed the report.

Starting the closing week of the forty-fifth session, members of the California legislature today vigorously attacked the large number of bills facing them before the files are cleared and their task is completed.

Solons to Stop Clock.
The week must be spent by each house considering measures which have originated in and been approved by the other body. The senate will get busy over 300 assembly measures that await approval, while lower house members have 175 senate bills to debate and act on during the week.

Friday at 5 p. m. is the time designated for final adjournment.
It is not believed probable that the work will be done by then, however, so the legislative day will be lengthened by the simple expedient of stopping the clock. Saturday and perhaps part of the Sunday will be necessary to complete final passage of all the bills, it is believed.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Henry Clinton and daughter, Mrs. W. A. West, have returned from Loma Linda, where Mrs. West has been a patient at was very much improved by her stay at the sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caunt of Pasadena were among Santa Ana's week-end visitors. Mr. Caunt is vice-president of the Security Trust ed the building of the transcontinental line and of which this was the fifty-fourth anniversary.

Miss Helen Pearl arrived in this city Saturday evening from

Relief Corps

Members of the Woman's Relief corps who were drawn to G. A. R.
hall recently by the regular monthly tea, heard a splendid program prepared under the direction of the W. R. C. president, Mrs. Clara Wedgwood.

Community singing of "America" opened the program after which Miss Dorothy S. ... daughter of one of the city's favorite vocalists, Mrs. Herbert M. Sammis, sang
"Mother My Dear," followed by a second number in response to the continued applause. "A Japanese Love Song" was then given as a vocal duet by Miss Sammis and Miss Eileen Young followed by an encore.

An original oration splendidly given was that by John Hopper and adding to the pleasure of the afternoon were many old familiar songs played by Miss Opal Stansfield. The address of the afternoon on "What the Schools Are Teaching Our Young People," was presented by W. M. Clayton of the high school.

St. Elizabeth's Guild

Members of the parish of the Church of the Messiah, have been interested in announcements contained in little folded paper baskets which St. Elizabeth's Guild members recently distributed.

Within the baskets was written the following invitation:
"A birth-day party for everyone,
Large or small, old or young.
A penny please, in the basket give,
For every year which you have lived.
Eats and fun galore, May 15, parish hall."

As a result of the suggestion, the Guild members hope to have a large crowd present and add to the sociability and friendliness of the church as well as to their own funds for church work.

Greater S. A. Club's Fund Status is Told

According to a report made by Z. B. West jr., secretary, to the executive committee of the Greater Santa Ana club at a luncheon

$2671.01 has been received on pledges, and the two past-ads already published in a Los Angeles newspaper have cost $1656.23. The costs of the advertising include photographs, cuts and other expenses incident to preparing copy.
Total pledges amount to $12,065.

Various features of the advertising campaign were discussed. Important matters that should have received attention was passed over to next week because of the small number of committeemen present.

CONSIDER PLAN FOR FAIR CONCESSIONS

Members of the 1923 Orange county fair board and a committee of the American Legion post of Santa Ana will meet at the Orange county farm bureau office here next Monday night to consider plans for handling concessions at the coming county exhibit.

R. D. Flaherty, manager of the fair, said:

"The meeting with the American Legion committee to ascertain whether that organization wants to handle concessions this year and a meeting of the fair board with the motor car dealers tomorrow night will precede a meeting of the fair board proper to be held later in the week.

"The fair board members expect at the coming meeting to decide definitely as to tentage and space demands for the exhibit.

"Fair matters are progressing favorably. Farm centers that never have exhibited at any previous Orange county fair have become enthused and promised support this year.

"At a recent meeting of the La Habra farm center, a number of insurance blanks were signed by the farm center members and plans proposed for an exhibit. La Habra will be one of the centers exhibiting for the first time."

CUT ON FOOT FATAL TO SCHOOLBOY, 10

Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Osmond John Easterday, 10, who died yesterday at the Buena Park hospital, as a result of blood poisoning.

The lad sustained a severe gash in his right foot last Tuesday, when, on his way to school, he stepped on a broken bottle.

Infection set in, and his death resulted yesterday. The body was at the Seale funeral parlors.

SLANG UNPOPULAR IN INDIAN TRIBE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The force of modern slang has caused the Indian office to change the name of the Arizona reservation from Moqui to Hopi. Moqui means "dead ones" in the Indian tongue and so much resentment has been aroused on the reservation by the frequent application of this translation, that an order was issued today effecting the change. The new name means "People of Peace."

WOMEN START CRUSADE
SYDNEY, N. S., May 14.—"There are too many dives and rum shops in this city and we are going to burn them down. We have come here to give the mayor and aldermen timely warning."

This was the announcement delivered to Chief of Police McCormick when visited by a large delegation of members of the ladies auxiliary of the steel workers union.

NEWSPAPERMAN DIES
PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 14.—Matthew S. Dwyer, general manager of the Evening Tribune, this city, for the past 17 years, and formerly with the Providence Journal for 32 years, died suddenly while sitting at his desk. He was 63 years old.

Man's Leg Incites Crime Woman Says

NEW YORK, May 14.—The question whether mere man, whose opportunities to display his own pulchritude have been drastically limited in modern times can be exploited on a New York state movie screen with his legs unsheathed, is to be settled by the supreme court of the commonwealth.

The appellate division of the court granted a writ today requiring the state motion picture commission to submit for review a report of its order to delete a number of man and dog scenes from a motion picture released by Pathe Exchange, Inc.

The commission ordered the movie corporation to "eliminate all view of the man's leg exposed where trousers are pulled by dog at dance." The letter written by Mrs. Eli T. Hosmer, woman member of the commission, said such an exhibition would "tend to incite to crime."

CANADA BANS RUM ON WESTERN COAST

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 14.—J. H. Falconer, chairman of the liquor control board for the government of British Columbia, is one of the powers instrumental in getting the Canadian government to refuse deep-sea clearances to vessels carrying liquor.

The new customs regulation is considered a knockout blow to bootleggers in the states of Washington, Oregon and California. An immediate effect of the cutting off of the supply of liquor illegally shipped from Vancouver, B. C., and smuggling into Seattle, due to the new order, was, according to Roy C. Lyle, federal prohibition director for Washington, "to force Seattle bootleggers to sell alcohol colored with iodine and other ingredients containing lye and other chemicals of which bootleggers' customers will soon tire." News of the "no deep-sea clearance" order was also favorably received in official circles at the American capital.

Queen of Atlantis Found by Explorer

PARIS, May 14.—Antinea, the mythical queen of the lost nation of Atlantis, and heroine of Pierre Benoit's famous novel, "Atlantis," actually reigns.

She is a white woman, a blond, and is tall, graceful and of surpassing beauty. Her people are the Touareg tribe, a white nation living in the fastness of the dreaded Hoggar desert.

These remarkable discoveries are reported, according to the Matin, by Prof. Olufsen's Danish mission, just returned after a seven months' exploration trip to the Sahara.

"Leaving last November, our expedition divided into three parts," said Prof. Olufsen. "I proceeded, with an escort of guides, from Salahye to Tamandasset, where I was received by Ackamou, the Hoggar king and chief male of a race ruled by a white queen.

"The Touaregs, who were originally Berbers, are white and very musical. The women are not only the equals of the men, but are their superiors on questions of politics and diplomacy.

"Queen Antinea is a beautiful woman, living in a huge leather tent on the outskirts of Tamandasset. She is 30 years old, blue-eyed and has had 14 husbands, including one French officer, and she divorced them all."

NEW YORK IS NOT GODLESS IS CLAIM

NEW YORK, May 11.—Anyone who rises up and condemns New York as a "Godless Town," as people have done upon occasion in the past is going to have to meet cold statistics hereafter. Figures recently compiled show that the church going population of this city is greater in proportion than that of the United States at large, declared a well known writer.

Married men seem to be regarded as more reliable, or more cautious, or as having better trained tempers than their bachelor brothers. Or maybe it's just New York married men who are expected to show thusly the results of discipline. Anyhow, Judge Boote granted the application of one male citizen to carry a revolver only after being assured that he was married.

Our courts deserve more sympathy than they get. It is always a question of straight law which is brought before them. Some judge here in New York is going to have to act as music expert if the request of Mrs. Olive Cornell is granted. She is suing a theatrical manager who dismissed her "because she couldn't sing," and to settle the question she has asked to have a piano moved into the court room where her case is heard so that she can go ahead then and there to prove that she can.

If you think the taste of this city and its visitors runs to risque plays just consult a man who ought to know the most about it. According to the findings of the biggest theatrical ticket broker in the city, the plays most sought by ticket buyers are clean, old-fashioned comedies, and he claims that the preference for them has increased every year of the fifty that he has been in business.

One of the most interesting art exhibits being shown is one of early American portraits and furniture. The exhibition represents a phase of New York family life in the days when slipper ships landed here from Chinese ports and our leading residential district was down around the battery below Wall street. Haircloth sofas are among the treasures, but most of the pieces of furniture and decorations, are as beautiful as anything we find in our homes nowadays, and considerably more so than most of our possessions.

WANTS LONGER SENTENCES
ST. PAUL, May 14.—Minimum jail sentences of one year for violators of the liquor laws were advocated today by Andrew J. Volstead, ex-representative in congress from Minnesota and author of the prohibition enforcement act. The eighteenth amendment would have been functioning perfectly long ago if law breakers had not been dealt with so leniently by the courts, Volstead declared.

ROADS CONDITION O. K.
LOS ANGELES, May 11.—With the advent of genuine hot weather, the Automobile Club of Southern California has been besieged with queries as to the condition of state and county highways. "Roads are in good condition and no detours are necessary," the weekly bulletin states. "Tourists are finding California highways in tip-top shape."

ADDS TO PARK

"Sometime In June"
Is Announced As Wedding Date

Receiving interested good wishes from a host of friends, Miss Elsie Williams was today answering "Sometime In June" to their questions regarding her approaching marriage to Mr. Leo Schmiedeberg, announcement of which was made at a delightfully planned party given Saturday evening by Mrs. Andrew Lykke.

Mrs. Lykke had arranged several tables of 500 for the entertainment of the guests, few of whom knew pink roses were garlands of gray to be a part of the evening's program. The pretty home on South Flower street was adorned with crepe paper and rose and gray Japanese lanterns, shading the chandeliers, proved most effective against the soft gray walls and eucalyptus woodwork.

At the close of the series of games, a French little powder puff and container was bestowed on Mrs. William M. Cory who held high score while Miss Edna Wulder holding second high score, at so received a dainty powder puff with wee French flower decorations. Miss Marguerite Galbraith, holding low score, received a set of attractive card table markers as consolation gift. The gifts were bestowed just prior to the serving of delectable refreshments, for which the card tables were spread with embroidered linens and centered with perfect rose buds in slender bud vases.

Mrs. Lykke was assisted in serving by Miss Elsie Williams, Miss Emma Douglass and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, and the menu included anil food and chocolate cake, maple m usse, fruit punch, mints and salted almonds in pink petalled nut cups. Each plate bore a cluster of Cecil Brunner buds and forget-me-nots.

As the guests unfolded their napkins, each found an envelope containing a little white folder bearing a basket of roses in water colors. Inside the folders, were snap-shots of Miss Williams and Mr. Schmiedeberg with their names and the magic word, "June". Miss Williams was immediately the center of interest and was showered with loving wishes by her friends. In expressing her own wishes Mrs. Lykke presented the honoree with a handsome flower bowl of vivid blue, mounted upon a glossy black base.

Those enjoying the happily planned event included, in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Lykke and the honoree, Miss Williams, the latter's mother, Mrs. Zoe Williams, Mrs. Ansel Nordene, Mrs. Nellie Quintana, Mrs. Clay Minnik, Mrs. Ben Lieberman, Mrs. Leo Minnik, Mrs. William Cory, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, and the Misses Lillian Lykke, Nora Lykke, Ruth Robertson, Eleanor Loeschner, Marguerite Galbraith, Silvestra Fricker, Lillian Arnold, Pearl Kimball, Cleo Allen, Ada Larson, Myrl Sidoway, Genevieve Bowser, Josephine Bowser, M. E. Bradley, Helena Lieberman, Edna Wurster, Margaret Bowen and Emma Douglass.

Athletic Girls
Postpone Party

Plans for the plunge party at Huntington Beach, which the Business Girls Athletic club announced for Monday night, have been changed and the affair will be held Wednesday, May 16 and the usual Monday meeting at the high school gym cancelled.

The girls will meet at the gym Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. and those having automobiles will offer space in their cars to others. Miss Alvera West will welcome 'phone calls from girls having room for comrades.

Those planning to go and desiring further information are requested to call Miss Ruby Cameron. Those having ukuleles are expected to bring them as a "sing" will be enjoyed around the blazing campfire, to the accompaniment of toasted marshmallows and roasted weiners.

Sunday School Rally
With Special Program

A Sunday school rally by the young people of the United Brethren church will be an interesting feature of Friday night, May 18 at the church on West Third street. An entertaining program is being planned to include an amusing characterization of the "Ladies Aid Society Business Meeting" given by a group of Sunday school girls, also the reading of a dramatic poem, "Drifting," written by the pastor, the Rev. Jerome L. Parks and to be read by Eleanor Young Elliott.

The program will offer something novel in the way of a memory test by the pastor. On the following day the annual picnic will be enjoyed at Orange county park and elaborate plans are being made by committees for a happy day.

Aid Society

Reports from the recent federal aid meeting in Los Angeles will be offered by delegates attending, when the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church meets Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors. Of chief importance will be the address on "Federation" which Mrs. F. T. Porter will present and believing the session to be one of general interest, the society tenders a cordial invitation to all kindred societies of the city to be present to hear Mrs. Porter. The business session and program will be followed by a social hour.

Preceding the session, the official board of the organization will meet in the church parlors in response to a call from the president, Mrs. G. B. Darnell.

Smart Bridge Luncheon
Adds to Gayeties
For Miss Burns

As the date of the Burns-Arnim wedding draws near, friends of the young couple continue to make Miss Gladys Burns the incentive for smartly appointed affairs, the latest of which was a merry bridge luncheon presented late last week at St. Ann's Inn by Mrs. Blaine Gibson of Anaheim.

Pastel tints predominated both in menu and in table appointments with pink and green of other appointments giving a beautiful effect.

Following the luncheon, bridge was introduced, the lavender place cards with their posy wreaths in water colors, serving as tally cards. Mrs. Herbert Wagner held high score and was awarded two pairs of sterling silver salt and pepper shakers while guest prize was of course bestowed on Miss Burns and proved to be an attractive table mat in silver repousse.

Mrs. Gibson's guest list included in addition to Miss Burns, honoree and her mother, Mrs. Elmer Burns, Mrs. Alfred Ralph, Mrs. James Sutherland, Mrs. Clarence McClintock, Mrs. Jules Hilton, Mrs. Herbert Wagner, Miss Marjory Warner, Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Miss Louise Montgomery and Miss Virginia Metzgar.

The wedding of Miss Burns and Mr. Frank Charles Arnim will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns, 316 Spurgeon street, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

POPULARITY OF DRESSES REMAINS UNDIMMED
WITH MILADY, SEEKING SMART SPRING STYLES

While there is a trim and well-groomed appearance achieved in a tailored suit that no other wearing apparel can bestow, yet Milady Feminine loves best of all, the frills and flurbelows of dresses. It is said that this spring, there are three dresses to one suit shown by the modistes and those who set the styles for the coming summer, and furthermore, as an indication of the hold the lovely, clingy crepes have on the feminine mind, 'tis said that three crepes are being shown to a single taffeta.

Flat crepes, canton crepes, printed crepes and novelty crepes in criss-cross, quadrille (woven checks) and Madrid (brocade effect) are the fashionable varieties. The dresses made of crepes follow the flat silhouette with tiers and drapes of various kinds for ornament. Pleated skirts are popular in gowns of these fabrics.

The taffeta frocks are practically all of the bouffant variety and are frilled, flounced and ruffled. Basque bodices or diminutive Eton jackets are shown especially in taffeta.

For trimming, embroidery is used, often in combination with lace. Ribbons are fashionable, too, and are especially favored for girdles and corsage trimming.

Parent-Teachers

Yellow and white blended harmoniously in flowers and crepe paper garlands to offer attractive decorations to the K. of C. hall late last week when Mrs. Thomas Feeley chose it as a setting for an enjoyable afternoon of progressive whist, entertaining the woman members of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Quantities of marigolds and white roses were used and in the late afternoon when refreshments were served, bowls of the white and gold flowers were used to center the ten card tables employed. Their tints were repeated in the ices and cake served.

Attractive prizes were given at the refreshment hour, Mrs. George W. Young receiving a lovely opalescent flower bowl on black standard, Mrs. Joseph Young receiving second prize of pretty needlework and Mrs. Carl Heim being consoled with a pair of decorated candles.

Nearly half a hundred ladies were present to enjoy Mrs. Feeley's hospitality.

Mrs. Vincent Gains 20 Lbs. By Taking Tanlac

Declares Famous Medicine Overcame Nervous Breakdown, Following An Operation. Indigestion, Headaches, Dizziness and Weakness Ended.

Mrs. Marguerite Vincent, residing at 317 S. Elm Street, is still another highly esteemed Los Angeles woman who relates an interesting experience with Tanlac. She says:

"I am certainly glad I was induced to take Tanlac for I have not only recovered my health by means of the treatment, but have actually gained twenty pounds as well. Before I took Tanlac I was suffering from a nervous breakdown that followed an operation. My appetite was so poor that every meal was forced, and nothing I ate agreed with me. My head ached so violently I thought it would burst, and I had such dizzy attacks that often I couldn't stand up. I must have had rheumatism also, for I ached all over, and my limbs and ankles hurt especially bad. I could never get to sleep until I was simply exhausted. I was almost a complete wreck and miserable all the time.

"It was my sister in Butte, Montana, who advised me to take Tanlac on account of the wonderful good it had done her, and the treatment has given me such a ravenous appetite that I enjoy every meal and just want to be eating all the time. My digestion is perfect, I sleep like a child at night, and never felt better in all my life. I can't say enough for Tanlac—we use it as our family tonic now."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Adv.

GRAVES OF OLD VETERANS TO BE CLEANED

Declaring that the veterans will help as much as possible, G. J. Mosbaugh, chairman of the decoration committee of the Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R., today issued an appeal or assistance in cleaning the graves of old soldiers.

At the same time he urged that Santa Anans having relatives buried in the old cemetery clear their lots of weeds.

"The graves of 253 old Civil War veterans in the Santa Ana cemetery need attention," said Mosbaugh. "We appeal to friends and relatives to assist in the work. The old veterans will do all they can, but they cannot do all that should be done. Discussing preparations for proper observance of Memorial Day, Mosbaugh said that the complete program had not been made. It will be finished and made public through the press some time next week, he said.

Memorial Sunday services, on May 27th, will be held at the First Methodist church at 11 a. m., Mosbaugh said. "As usual Memorial Day services will be held at the monument of the unknown dead at 10 a. m. The services will be in charge of Sedgwick post and affiliated orders and will be open to the public.

"Gordon Granger Post, No. 138, Orange, and Sedgwick Post, conduct these services on alternate years. Gordon Granger was in charge last year.

"The program for services to be held at Birch Park, at 2 p. m., will be published in full later. "We ask the women of Santa Ana to save as many flowers as possible for May 30. They have always counted very liberally and the 'Old Boys' are very grateful to them for doing so.

"It may interest some to know how many Civil War veterans are laid to rest in our cemeteries. In addition to the 253 in Santa Ana cemetery, there are 138 in Fairhaven, seven in the mausoleum, four in the German cemetery and two in St. John's, making a total of 404."

Skipper Loses His Sweater Calculator

DANVILLE, May 14.—Business on the Tonerville trolley, which meets nearly all trains at this point, came to a standstill today, when somebody stole the "sweater calculator" of "Skipper" William French, by which he remembers who gets off and where.

Several weeks ago some woman passenger left a pink and white sweater on the car. She never called for it. The "skipper" kept it concealed for a week. When it remained unclaimed, the "skipper" tied it to the controller bar on the trolley's front porch and used it for a memory guide.

One knot was the Wilson place. Two knots meant the windmill stop on the Harvey ranch. When the car filled up the "skipper" knotted up his "sweater calculator." Everything else but the knot stops were skip stops.

Today somebody stole the sweater or else the owner claimed it, and a terrible mixup ensued. Mrs. Watts was put off at the Somers crossing and old man Petty was carried clear to Alama. The "skipper" has no record of the knots, and unless his sweater is returned several of the passengers may have to ride back and forth until their folks call for them.

The "skipper" has offered a free chew off his plug of tobacco to anyone who will bring back the missing calculator.

BITES ON BULLET FROM DEAD BODY

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 14.—No incident more terrible, more dramatic or more gruesome featured the murder trial of Fred Deal, Florida negro, charged with shooting to death Constable Robert G. McBeath, Y. C., than when the accused man, who had been called to the witness stand, was handed the bullet that had been taken from the dead man's body.

He looked at it, but could not tell what the caliber was. Irritated, the prosecuting attorney handed a revolver to Deal. It was the gun that had been in the hands of the accused on the night of the shooting. Deal was told to see if the bullet fitted the gun. He slipped it in place. It fitted so snugly Deal had to use his teeth to extract it. As the bullet reposed in the negro's mouth many in court shivered and turned their heads away. First in the body of the slain man, then between the lips of the accused!

In addition to commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding by the early San Franciscan friars of Sonoma Mission and the Mission San Francisco de Solano, the centennial will celebrate the 75th anniversary of July 4, 1846, when the first American flag was raised on California soil in the town of Sonoma by California pioneers.

MANAGER WANTED
BERKELEY, May 14.—Mayor-elect Frank D. Stringham and the city council-elect today promulgated a "help wanted" appeal of some note when they asked for applications for the position of city manager.

All applications are to be sent to the mayor-elect. The job pays not more than $10,000. No qualifications are necessary other than ability to run a growing city of more than 50,000.

$50,000 Loan Is Asked To Finish New Church

Because sufficient funds were not at hand to complete the construction of a new edifice on North Main street, First Church of Christ Scientist of Santa Ana had today filed a petition in superior court, asking leave to mortgage the property, for a loan not to exceed $50,000.

The request was authorized at a meeting of the trustees of the church, last Tuesday night, the petition set forth.

The exact total of the money which will be borrowed, cannot be set, since contributions are being received constantly, the petitioner stated, but it will not exceed $50,000, and will be borrowed from the First National Bank.

The petition was signed by John D. Kelly, president, and Frank V. Hoffman, clerk of the board.

Disturbance at Dance Costs Man Jail Term

Pleading guilty to charges of disturbing the peace at a dance at La Habra last night, where he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. E. Bates, R. L. Poling was sentenced by Justice J. B. Cox to serve 10 days in the county jail.

Poling was intoxicated, Bates testified, and refused to leave the dance hall.

His request that a fine be imposed was denied by the court.

MANY PILOTS TO ENTER BAG RACES

INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—Fourteen American balloons are already assured for the National Elimination Balloon Race to be held here sometime between June 9 and July 4, including the entry of Ralph Upson, of Detroit, winner of the International Balloon race at Paris a few years ago.

The race will be under the auspices of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and the National Aeronautic association, and while no definite date has been fixed, an announcement from the chamber states that July 4 is favored. The exact date, however, will be determined when B. Russell Shaw of Washington, chairman of the contest committee of the National Aeronautical association, arrives here and confers with officials of the Chamber of Commerce.

According to Blaine McGrath, of the Chamber of Commerce, the race will probably start from the Indianapolis motor speedway. There are many gas mains in the infield of the automobile track, placed there several years ago for a balloon race. They are reported to be in a fair condition.

Another entry that is assured, according to the Chamber of Commerce, is George I. Baumbach of this city.

The winner, second and third men in this elimination race will be chosen to represent America in the international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, to be held at Brussels, September 23.

The army and navy will be represented by four balloons, according to the announcement made here, and four new balloonists are said to have filed entries at Washington.

The American record of 1,172 miles for free balloon flight is held by Allan Hawley, of New York, and the promoters of the 1923 race say that if favorable winds are available on the day of the race, they feel confident that this record will be broken.

Russians Facing Shortage of Trucks

MOSCOW, May 14.—Faced on the one hand with a nation-wide need for auto trucks and tractors, and on the other with a struggling home industry in the manufacture of these machines, the government departments directing the foreign trade policy of Soviet Russia have not yet made up their minds whether they should stand for free trade or a protective tariff.

Russia has little money to spend for trucks and tractors abroad, but some day hopes to be able to supply every community with at least one farm tractor. Before the state plan commission it was declared recently that, during the next ten years, the nation would need 220,000 20-horsepower tractors, but only 50,000 could be purchased abroad. The remainder will have to be secured elsewhere. Russian factories are now turning out a few tractors, and these are said to be of excellent capacity. Those favoring protection of this infant industry want a high tariff on tractors from abroad.

Several hundred tractors have been brought to Russia by various agricultural colonists and some foreign relief organizations, but they are sufficient only to replace an infinitesimal percentage of the horses and other draft animals who died by the hundreds of thousands during the recent famine.

HISTORICAL FILMS TO BE PRESERVED

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Steps are to be taken by President Harding to preserve moon picture films portraying events of possible historic value as the result of conferences held by the executive with Will H. Hays, representing the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

After a call at the White House today Mr. Hays said the President had accepted an offer by the producers and distributors to aid in collecting such films. They will be assembled in Washington and stored in a special vault in the White House.

INSIDE STORY OF BRAZIL'S BIG FAIR

NEW YORK, May 14.—A nation comprising nearly half of a great continent, and larger in area than the United States, exclusive of Alaska—is occupying the international stage. At Rio de Janeiro, Brazil is holding a celebration—a hundred years of independence and progress have been recorded and are being commemorated.

The anxiety of a retiring president to inaugurate the exposition last September before the expiration of his term of office, resulted in its being opened before its beauty had matured, and while it was still little better than a construction camp. Through early fall and late winter, crowded ships turned southward bearing visitors to the sister republic, and northbound ships bore returning crowds, disappointed and unenthusiastic.

But with the recent opening of the Argentine building, the exposition is complete and President Bernardes has postponed the closing date until July. The event is of peculiar interest to the United States because of the fact that Brazil already has participated in eight expositions in this country, spending more than $3,000,000. The close friendship between the United States and Brazil has been maintained through the century. Brazil was the only country to send its chief executive to the Centennial of American independence in Philadelphia in 1876. This high official was Dom Pedro II, who then was emperor. He stood with General Grant at the opening of ceremonies. Dom Pedro later made an extensive trip through the United States, inquiring especially into social and industrial methods which might be of value to his people. It being impossible for President Harding to return the courtesy of a personal visit to Brazil, Secretary Hughes was designated as this Nation's representative.

Portuguese Landed
The grounds for Brazil's world's fair extend for ten city blocks along the beautiful Guanabara Bay, and embrace that part of Rio de Janeiro about which cling the city's fairest traditions, including the point on which the old Portuguese colonists landed in 1567 to make their first settlement. That settlement was made on a hill, the Morro de Castello, which is being sluiced into the bay. The area thus reclaimed is a part of the site of the exposition.

The pivotal building of the exposition is a restoration of the fort which the early colonists built on the point to command the narrow entrance to the harbor, while close by is a fine example of early Portuguese colonial architecture, a building constructed by Count Bonadella in 1750 as a residence for the monks and is now being used as one of Brazil's exhibit buildings at the fair. Just beyond the exposition gates stands the historic old market place of the city and in the immediate foreground, as one looks out to sea, is the island fortress Villegaignon, built by the French admiral by that name, who was the first to establish a colony in the Bay of Rio in 1555, twelve years before the first Portuguese settlement from which the present city has grown.

At the right of the main entrance stands the Monroe palace, which, the the Brazilian government building, was one of the most beautiful structures at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis. When the Avenida Rio Branco was built through the heart of the city in 1905, the Brazilian building at the St. Louis World's Fair was rebuilt at the head of the avenue and has been used as the Chamber of Deputies. The building now is being used as the administration building of the exposition.

The United States building is bounded by streets on all four sides and is situated one block from the junction of the famed Beira Mar boulevard and the Avenida Rio Branco, so that after the removal of the intervening temporary structures, the embassy will stand out as the most prominent feature of the near landscape, as viewed from the Beira Mar. The Monroe palace across the parkway that is to be laid out on the filled area.

The crowning architectural feature of the exposition undoubtedly is the Palace of Festivals. The grandeur of its proportions is uncrowded by other buildings, so that it stands out in all its beauty, a fine example of the style of Louis XVI, modern. This palace is surmounted by a dome 131 feet in diameter and its auditorium with a seating capacity of 4000, is one of the finest in South America.

This building was designed by a young Brazilian, Archimedes Memora. He never has been out of his native land, and, up to the age of 35 lived and worked in the heart of Ceara in the north-east of Brazil.

As viewed across the harbor from the top of Sugar Loaf, the illuminating of the exposition grounds at nightfall is a sight never to be forgotten.

CLAIMS WOMEN LEAD IN BIG CAR CHOICE

Motor car production, which in April broke all records exceeding March by ten thousand cars, is strongly reflecting the influence of women in the choice of body styles, according to Henry Gerken of the Orange County Garage Company, Jordan dealer.

"A few years ago men bought cars because they craved a certain rate of speed, or favored a certain mechanical design," said Gerken.

"Now women choose them for reasons of body design from the standpoint of comfort and family convenience."

"There was a time when enclosed cars were sold in very small numbers west of the Mississippi river, even in the larger cities."

"Within the past two years the percentage of enclosed car production has increased from thirty to fifty."

"Now the demand for the close coupled four door Brougham type is developing."

"The Jordan Four Door Brougham, is the forerunner of the enclosed car of the future."

Tustin Boy Wins In County Contest

TUSTIN, May 14.—John Rust of the local union high school was today being congratulated by his friends on his victory last night in the junior essay division of the county forensic contest in which representatives of Anaheim, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Huntington Beach and Tustin competed. Santa Ana won the school cup.

Rust, who was the only Tustin entrant to place in the preliminary, spoke on "Wasting Time." His essay was a clear exposition of the time wasting habits of high school students as he saw them. His opponent was Miss Elizabeth Hazelton of Huntington Beach on "Why Is a Boy?"

Charging desertion after 18 years of married life, Matre Lago today filed suit for divorce from Edurges Lago.

Tustin Infant Is Buried On Tuesday

TUSTIN, May 14.—Roy Eldon Runnels, two-and-a-half months old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy I. Runnels of Bryan street passed away at the Runnels' home Monday evening about 8 o'clock p. m.

The child was one of the twin children recently born, and has been in poor health since birth. He is survived by his twin sister who shows every sign of being a very healthy baby, and by seven brothers and one sister, besides his mother and father. When born the twins weighed about two and one-half pounds each.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Runnels home in charge of Smith and Tutill, undertakers, with the Rev. W. S. McDougall officiating. Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery.

CAIRO MUSEUM GETS RELICS OF PHARAOH

VALLEY OF THE KINGS, Luxor, Egypt, May 14.—Members of the American Archaeological Mission who are assisting the discovery of King Tut-Ankh-Amun tomb in identifying, preserving and packing the amazingly rich collection of antiquities removed from the burial chamber of the Pharaoh, are making rapid progress in their work and hope soon to leave on their annual visits to the United States. They will return to Luxor in the autumn when the tomb is reopened.

Most of the articles taken from the royal mortuary chamber are now ready for shipment to the Cairo Museum. There is little chance that any of these mementoes will find their way to American, or indeed British museums. For the Egyptian law prescribes that all objects found in royal tombs shall remain in the country as the property of the Egyptian government. The Britons who discovered the tomb must find their reward in the personal satisfaction of having added so signally to the world's knowledge of life on the Nile 3,500 years ago. They have taken no article from the tomb as their personal property. And they have announced they do not intend to do so.

The American experts' compensation will be even less. They are aiding their British colleagues without a penny of remuneration. And they have done by far the greater part of the important work of conserving the hundreds of fragile objects found in the tomb. It may be said that without their help these articles would have perished.

WOMAN KILLED, HUSBAND IS MAINED IN CROSSING CRASH

One woman was dead, one man was in a critical condition today, and several others were less seriously hurt, as a result of traffic accidents yesterday.

Dead: Mrs. J. Wardell, 25, Buena Park. Injured: J. Wardell, her husband, fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

Joseph Mesa, Huntington Beach, cuts and bruises.

Joseph Mesa, Huntington Beach, was at the Seaside hospital, Long Beach, today recovering from minor injuries sustained in a wreck near the Hellman ranch on the Long Beach boulevard early yesterday morning.

An automobile driven by William McCain skidded into the ditch, and overturned, according to reports at the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff G. E. McClellan was called, and he assisted in taking the injured man to the hospital.

To Hold Inquest
Coroner C. D. Brown was prepared to hold an inquest at 2 p. m. today into Mrs. Wardell's death. The inquest will be held at the McAulay funeral chapel.

Meanwhile, early today, Wardell's condition was still critical. At the time he was still unconscious, according to officials at the Fullerton hospital, where he was taken on following the accident.

The accident occurred at the Northam crossing, where the Santa Fe tracks and the telegraph road intersect, about 2 miles north of Buena Park. The couple were on their way from the Emory lease, near Fullerton, to Buena Park when the train hit their car broadside.

So heavy was the impact that the machine was carried fully 300 yards before the train was brought to a stop.

The husband was rushed to the hospital, where physicians announced that he was suffering from a fractured skull and countless bruises and cuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wardell came to Orange county several months ago from Oregon. It was learned, Mrs. H. L. Donaghen, Fullerton, a sister of Wardell, was the only Orange county relative, it was said.

Girl's State Improves
Slowly returning from the shadow of death, Miss Della Vennig, 14-year-old Long Beach high school girl, was reported to be slightly improved at the Fullerton hospital, where she had been since an accident, a week ago yesterday, in which she and two others were seriously hurt.

Miss Vennig and her companion, G. W. Schlessler, a sailor, were seriously hurt when the automobile in which they were riding struck a hydrant on East Commonwealth avenue.

At the time, the girl was unconscious, and death seemed imminent, but today, a slight improvement was noted, hospital authorities stated.

Schlessler's condition was improved, and he will recover, they stated.

Orange Man Injured
George Shifflet, orange association foreman, was confined to his home at Orange with a dislocated shoulder and minor injuries today, as a result of an accident yesterday morning on West Fifth street, outside of Santa Ana.

Shifflet was driving the car, when it skidded, and rolling over twice, overturned. He was thrown clear of the wreck, but two companions were pinned beneath the machine.

Unaware of the extent of his injuries, Shifflet lifted the car to release his companions, but fell, exhausted from the strain, as they emerged.

LASSEN CRATER MOST ACTIVE IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, May 14.—"Americans are accustomed to thinking of Uncle Sam as an owner of volcanoes because of the array of them on the Alaskan Peninsula, headed by huge Katmai, and their occurrence in the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines," says a bulletin from the Washington D. C., headquarters of the National Geographical Society.

"Volcanism, however, is not a far-away thing, after all. The renewal of activity at Mount Lassen, in Northern California, early in March, emphasizes the fact that we actually have a live volcano within the boundaries of one of our most populous states. This example of one of Nature's most powerful forces is only 200 miles north of San Francisco and 300 miles south of Portland."

Eruption of 1914 Historic
"When Mount Lassen became active in 1914 it was an epoch-making event, for it was the first volcanic eruption within the borders of the United States proper known to have taken place with in historic times. Stones and mud were thrown for half a mile from the crater, while ash drifted for fifteen to twenty miles. Previously the region had been a sort of Yellowstone with boiling mud springs emitting sulphurous gasses; and a few agitated springs that approach geysers in activity."

"Mount Lassen does not present a case of volcano appearing inexplicably in a peaceful countryside. It is on the edge of one of the greatest ancient lava-flows in the world—a flow which covers large areas in Northern California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Upon another edge of the same lava-flow is situated Yellowstone National Park with its near-volcanic phenomena."

"On this same flow, farther north, are the huge volcanic cones, now extinct, of Mount Rainier, Mount Hood and Mount Shasta. The activity responsible for these large peaks and for the extensive flow took place hundreds of thousands, or even millions, of years ago, before the last ice age. The region immediately around Lassen, alone, apparently has preserved a channel with the deep fires."

Our Volcanic National Park
"A few miles north of Lassen is a cinder cone from which probably took place the latest eruption in the United States before 1914. Traditions among the Indians of the neighborhood tell of a time believed to have been 200 or 300 years ago when smoke and cinders belched forth from this peak, darkening the sky for days and scattering ashes over a large area. The age of trees growing in the crater of this cone indicates, by one interpretation, that there also was a slight eruption about eighty years ago, but the America of that day, without telegraph wires and news services, was ignorant of an eruption if one actually took place. Material from one of the eruptions of this vent dammed a small valley, creating a lake in which the standing stumps of drowned trees still are to be found."

"In 1907 when all volcanic vents were believed to be extinct Lassen and Cinder Cone were set apart as small national monuments to serve as examples of recent volcanic activity. Since 1914 when it became known that there was present activity in the region an area of 125 square miles around the craters has been made into the Lassen Volcanic National Park. Automobile roads have been constructed from the nearest railroad station about forty miles away, and hundreds of tourists have visited the region."

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, May 14.—The Modern Priscilla club met at the home of Mrs. H. D. Nichols Wednesday afternoon. The day being so hot there was very little work done by any of the members, so the time was spent in the discussion of several matters of business that will be taken up at the next meeting.

A beautiful bouquet of syringas was admired by all; also a pale yellow rose that was watched with much interest as to how it was effected by the heat of the day.

Refreshments of strawberries, cookies and sandwiches and iced tea were served. Club will meet with Mrs. George Carriker at 292 N. Grand Street, Orange, May 23.

Members present, Miss Holditch, Mesdames W. L. Adams, John Allen, W. Brubaker, Geo. Carriker, J. M. Gillogly, J. B. Handy, L. Hanselman, A. Streech, H. D. Nichols and W. A. Knuth.

Rev. W. L. Miller and wife, of Alhambra, and Mrs. Mary Royal of Long Beach, came Thursday to be with Mrs. Frank Lord whose husband passed away suddenly Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Miller is a brother of Mrs. Lord.

H. D. Nichols was a business visitor in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

A number of Villa Park members attended the meeting of the Villa Park Farm Center held in Olive on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Lucy Woodford and son, Whittier, returned Wednesday evening from Glendale where they had been since Monday attending a meeting of the Congregational church conference.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carriker moved back to Orange after residing here for the past few months.

Will Holditch and A. S. Adams spent Thursday afternoon at Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robb of Santa Ana, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Adams.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Conger Thomson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Somerville Thomson and Misses Marjory and Lois Thomson motored to Ontario to see their aunt, Mrs. Jessie Doan, before she left on a trip east.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Handy and sons Owen, Bruce and Philip left Friday afternoon to spend the week end at Arrowhead Lake.

While they are away Miss Zaida will be a guest of Miss Doris Heikes of Orange.

Others in Party
Marshal W. E. Jemison of this place and Deputy Sheriff Jesus Amaras were other members of the party.

The party went through Little Bear valley to the Worthington ranch and found the gruesome relics about three miles north and east of the ranch. They were partially buried in the sand of the creek bed and the shoes and socks reported by Mr. Butts were 150 feet down the creek.

Bones Are Found
The most important find, and one taken by the coroner and Deputy Sheriff Amaras to indicate that the remains were not those of McGowan, was the right half of a lower jawbone. This had three teeth, unfilled and in perfect condition, Coroner Hanna said. McGowan was 32 years old and Coroner Hanna said that he did not think it probable that he could have had teeth in such perfect condition.

PRIZE PLAN ADDS TO PORK OUTPUT

CHICAGO, May 14.—More pigs will wiggle their chops to the American table this year as the result of the Ton-Litter plan devised by Prof. James R. Wiley of Purdue university.

In order to encourage an increase in the marketing of hogs, and to block the leak in the pig crop between farrowing time and marketing, Professor Wiley, in 1922, inaugurated a Ton-Litter contest in Indiana. In this contest the farmer or boy who produced a ton or more of pork from a single litter of pigs, within six months of their birth, was awarded a gold medal.

Thirty-two of an entry list of 555 in the contest won these medals, Professor Wiley said.

According to Professor Wiley, ordinarily only four to five pigs of a litter are marketed, but under the Ton-Litter system practically the whole litter of 10 or 15 pigs may be saved through skillful breeding, feeding, management and early maturity.

In Indiana thousands of farmers have entered the Ton-Litter contest this year, Professor Wiley declared, and other states in the corn belt have now started similar contests, notably Texas, Iowa, Illinois and Ohio.

Man Flees Chain Gang Working at Cemetery

Posses of deputy sheriffs were today scouring the country near Fairview cemetery, in search of Joe "Tex" Cory, vagrant, serving a 30 day sentence in the county jail, who about 9 a. m. eluded Deputy Sheriff Charles Rouselle, in charge of the chain gang at work in the cemetery, and made good his escape.

Rouselle was in charge of about 30 men, engaged in cleaning up the grounds at the cemetery, when Cory made good his escape.

Deputies H. S. Warner, Frank Stewart, L. J. Heffner, Herman Zabel and Jesse Elliott were attempting to re-capture him.

DEVELOP NEW WAY OF CASTING IRON

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 14.—The development of a new system of making iron castings from "long-life molds," through which manufacturers will be saved thousands of dollars for new equipment was revealed here by Dr. Richard Moldenke of Watchung, N. J., who is noted as one of the country's leading authorities and authors on iron foundry methods.

In a paper read before the American Foundrymen's convention here, Dr. Moldenke told of this latest invention.

Dr. Moldenke traced the making of castings back centuries to the bronze age when stones were used to form the molds from which necessary utensils and instruments of war were cast. He described the various methods in use in iron foundries of this country and brought the progress up to the latest development in the making of castings from the new "long-life molds," as he termed them, at the Holley plant.

This type of mold, it is said, will produce six two-pound castings per minute and Dr. Moldenke claims that this new method allows one man to pour 400 castings per hour by standing above a revolving table on which 12 of these castings are placed. With the old method of sand castings it took eight times as many hours to produce any given quantity of castings, as it takes by the new method.

40 HOMMES TO INITIATE 60 'GOOFS' HERE WEDNESDAY

Social Auxiliary of Legion to Organize New Branch

'CHEF' IN CHARGE

'Wrecking Crew' Will Exemplify Ceremonial Activities

American Legion men from every post in Orange county will assemble at the Legion home here Wednesday evening to organize the Orange County Vulture of La Socio des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux. This organization is known as the "playground society of the American Legion." Only one Vulture is allowed each county, so in that way it brings together the former service men from all sections of the county for a good time.

Grand Chef de Gare Herbert J. Simon, who is the chief of all Vultures in California, is coming to Santa Ana especially to institute the local Vulture, and install its officers. Simons and Grand Correspondent Ben Shenberg were here recently laying plans with the local Legion officials for the big promenade Wednesday night.

The local Legion men plan to make this an outstanding affair for the ex-service men of this locality. With the forming of the Orange County Vulture, every county in the southern part of the state will have a Vulture of the "box car gang" except San Diego county.

To Initiate Sixty.
About sixty "goofs," as the candidates are called, will be initiated. Fifteen have already taken the work at a monster promenade recently held at El Segundo in honor of National Correspondent Howard E. MacDonald while he was in the Southwest on his way home from a national meeting in Kansas City where the big program of the organization for taking care of or-

SILK COSTUMES FOR 'MIKADO' OPERA TO SET MARK, IS VIEW

Raymond Miles, who will play the part of "Nanki Pooh," son of the Mikado, in the coming Choral union production, "The Mikado," is no stranger to Orange county theater-goers. In addition to appearing in "The Mikado" when it was produced here a year and a half ago, Miles has had prominent parts in "The Pirates of Penzance," "Pinafore," "The Bohemian Girl," and other Choral union offerings. "The Mikado" will be presented at the high school auditorium May 23 and 24.

With the advance seat sale indicating that "The Mikado," to be produced here May 23 and 24 by the Orange County Choral union, will draw capacity audiences, Director Ellis Rhodes today was completing arrangements for dress rehearsal to be held in the auditorium of Polytechnic high school here next Saturday night.

The cast, according to Rhodes, is exceptionally well-balanced, and music-lovers are assured a rare treat when the popular opera is given. The two new members of the cast, Miss Edith Cornell, as "Katisha," and A. H. T. Taylor, as "The Mikado," have acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner, Rhodes declared. Rehearsals are held twice weekly at the junior high school.

Costumes to be used in "The Mikado" will probably outlive

SHEIK'S LOVE NOTES GIVEN BACK TO HIM

Arlington Beauty Through With Alleged Bigamist Forever, She Says

Miss Dorothy Martinez, pretty Arlington girl, and ex-wife No. 2 or No. 3—depending on whose statements are credited—of R. P. Collins, so-called sheik, confined in the county jail here on bigamy charges, is not very enthusiastic over the former husband, who, authorities claim, has a heart-fracturing record which extends over the entire west coast.

She came to the Orange county jail yesterday, and talked with her husband of a week, but she wasn't affectionate in her greeting, and when she left, she said it was "forever."

Her visit was for the purpose of returning to Collins a suitcase of clothing and love letters, from at least two of his wives, she affirmed.

Letters Affectionate
There were letters from him to her—affectionate, full of ardor—and letters from her to him, equally warm and expressing undying love.

Then there were letters from Neil Ruth, said to be wife No. 2. They were alternately epistles of love and promises of assistance, followed closely by messages of defiance, if he should return to Miss Martinez.

There were at least a dozen of them, and as many photographs of Miss Martinez, in addition to clothing, which, it was said, Collins wore during his brief marital career with Miss Martinez, before he was arrested on Ontario, and following his release there, re-arrested for Orange county authorities.

Cold Toward 'Sheik'
Miss Martinez did not greet the "sheik" with the warmth which his reputation would have warranted. In fact, there was a noticeable coldness in her attitude toward him.

Later, she expressed her unconcern for him, saying that she had never cared much for him, but at the same time admitting that she had written a number of letters in which she had professed her undying faith and reliance in him.

"Our marriage has been annulled," she said, "and now that I've returned these things, he has the last thing of his that I had. I'm done with him forever."
So while technically, Collins still faced bigamy charges, his ally, one of his arrested wives had passed from his life. She, at least, would not fight for him.

U. S. ARMY FLYERS' DEATH STORY TOLD

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 14.—From two charred skeletons, cloth and machinery from a burned airplane and testimony of a searching party that returned from an isolated spot in the Cuyamaca mountains yesterday with relics, an army board of inquiry was today piecing together the mysterious story of the death of Colonel Francis H. Marshall and Lieutenant Charles Webber, whose bodies were found in a pine forest Saturday, five months and five days after they disappeared while on a scheduled non-stop flight from San Diego to Tucson, Ariz.

A crash with tall pine trees is believed to have been the cause of the disaster. It was recalled that the mountains where the aviators crossed over were enveloped in fog the morning of December 7 when they began their flight.

Broken and burned trees indicate the path of the plane, according to searchers who visited the spot and recovered the bodies yesterday. The big machine tore through the top branches of a high pine, swung to one side when a wing crumpled and finally fell to the ground when a collision with another tree shattered the propeller, according to theories made up from mute evidence at the scene of the tragedy.

Before the plane struck the ground it was in flames, and the aviators were dead, it was believed. The wrenching the machine received in the first collision is thought to have demolished the gas tank and splattered the fuselage with flaming gasoline.

Protect Purchaser of Oils from Bad Labels

According to R. W. Lantz, of the firm of Lantz Brothers, 517 North Main street, Gardner distributors, sales on the Gardner car are making rapid strides in all sections of the country.

"January of this year topped January, 1922, by 107 per cent and February led the same month a year ago by 480 per cent," Lantz said. "The motorist today is putting his money into transportation and more thought is given to the mechanical details of the car he buys."

"For this reason the Gardner with its five bearing crankshaft is attracting the attention of seasoned motorists. These multi-bearing reduce friction and add many years to the motor's efficient service."

SIX MILLIONS IN K. C. FUND, IS REPORT

Thomas Feeley, Grand Knight of Santa Ana Council No. 1842, Knights of Columbus, today pointed out that on April 1, 1923, a balance of $6,152,289.94 remained in the Knights of Columbus war fund for welfare work among ex-service men.

He reports that on that date, 193 secretaries and 457 hospitals were conducting hospital welfare work, with approximately 29,000 former soldiers being benefited by the service.

For the education of ex-service men, sixty-nine evening schools are being attended by 45,018, the courses being provided absolutely free. Scholarships to the number of 440 had been awarded, with 493 students actually enrolled.

Feeley called particular attention to the fact that correspondence schools maintained by the K. of C. are open to local ex-service men, pointing out that at the home office in New Haven, Conn., 61,000 inquiries concerning correspondence courses have been received, with 18,589 applicants enrolled in seventy-five different courses.

Give Legion $50,000.
Following a survey by the supreme secretary, with a representative of the American Legion, the sum of $50,000 was appropriated from the war fund and paid over to that organization to assist in caring for the non-compensable or inadequately compensated tubercular ex-service men who have migrated to the southwest," said Feeley.

Concerning the evening and correspondence schools, Feeley said that they are entirely of a non-sectarian character.

"No questions of any kind are asked in regard to the applicants' religious affiliation and no record of any sort are made with reference to religious denominations," Feeley continued.

"I don't know that any ex-service man in Orange county is availing himself of the correspondence courses offered, and it may be that many of them do not know that the instruction is available," said the grand knight.

"There is no charge for any of the courses, except that students are required to make small deposits for text books, the deposits being returned at the completion of the course. In technical courses, students must supply their own equipment, but the K. of C. will offer its service in buying the equipment at the lowest price available."

Offer Many Courses.
"Correspondence courses are offered in business, civil service, mathematics, language, including foreign languages, with a number of groupings under each subject."

"Technical and special courses provide for mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, blue print reading, steam engines, automobiles, radio, show card writing and traffic management."

Feeley said applications for the courses should be filed with William J. McGinley, supreme secretary, Knights of Columbus, educational bureau, New Haven, Conn.

PREDICTS WARM BATTLE WHEN OPENING OF SYCAMORE REVIVED

Fight Expected to Develop When Engineer's Report Is Filed

CHARGES ARE HURLED

Claim Made That Promoters Are Trying to Force Opening For Profit

The Sycamore street opening "battle" is expected to be resumed at the adjourned meeting of the city council to be held tonight at the city council chambers at 7:30 o'clock.

Resumption of the fight is expected to come up with a report to be made by William G. Knox, city engineer.

While he did not fully complete his estimates, Knox said today that he believed opening of Sycamore from Washington north to Fifteenth street would cost approximately $3000.

Petition for opening the street is signed by the owners of 56 per cent of the frontage on the proposed street, a check of the petition by Knox revealed.

Huri Charges
At the council meeting last Monday night opponents to the movement, in discussion, injected charges that promoters were endeavoring to force the opening at the expense of others in order that the promoters might profit by the opening, making available for sale property that is now asserted to be "dead."

Give Reasons
On the other hand two of the signers to the petition said that opening of the street had been revived because of the contemplated location of a bungalow court on a lot, part of which is necessary for the street.

They pointed out that if the building program is carried out, continuation of the street north would be blocked, or, should it later be opened, the cost would be far greater than it would be at this

Enjoy This Now Combat that film on teeth

Watch the new beauty come

Go ask for this free test.

The results will delight you. They will show you a way which millions have found to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. All in your home should know it. Show them at once what it does.

Why teeth grow dingy

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. That film is the teeth's great enemy. It absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why 49 in 50 suffer from tooth troubles. Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now you can combat it

Dental science has in late years found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. These two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people the world over now use it, largely by dental advice.

A new dental era

Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combant which contains harsh grit.

It multiplies the starch digester in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus it gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents. These combined results mean a new dental era.

You will be amazed

This test of Pepsodent brings a new conception of what clean teeth mean. Present the coupon for it. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

In a week you will know what is best for you and yours—the old ways or the new. That decision is important. Cut out the coupon now.

Prettier teeth seen everywhere

You see prettier teeth now wherever you look, for millions are fighting film. So it is the world over. Careful people of some 50 nations now use Pepsodent every day. This test will show you why. No one can see the Pepsodent results without wanting them continued.

Men Who Attended Officers' Training Camps to Hold Meet

Real army chow for those "bud-dies" who attended Officers' Training camps in 1917-18, will be provided as part of the reunion to be held tomorrow at the Presidio of San Francisco, according to word received here today. Every man who attended an officers' training camp is expected to mingle once more with his buddies, the occasion being the sixth anniversary of the establishment of the first officers' training camp.

A circular just issued by the committee in charge of arrangements and mailed throughout the state, says:

"It does not matter whether you graduated from camp or left at your own or someone else's request. We want all the old gang to get together again."

The former training camp students will meet at the Red Cross House at the Presidio at 4 p. m. tomorrow. Show will be served, strictly a la army, by the Bakers' and Cooks' school mess at 6 p. m. The program includes a parade and other features and interest of those who attend will be stimulated by the training camps which are to be held for 1,000 young Californians July 26 to August 24, at Del Monte and Fort Winfield Scott.

STEPHENS SALE RECORDS SHOW BIG GAINS

With the really big touring season just starting, A. R. Nelson, of the Nelson Motor company, local Stephens dealers, is anticipating the biggest Stephens year on record in Southern California.

R. W. Lea, vice-president and general manager of the Stephens Motor Car company, has just sent word that California sales in Stephens to date exceed those for the same period last year by 250 per cent.

"The new Stephens models have completed their conquest of the country," said Lea. "Stephens popularity has swept the country in a new 'coast-to-coast run.' The run began with the first showing of the smart new models at New York early in January and finished with the enthusiastic reception at San Francisco. This success was made tangible by the startling increase in orders from the 'far west.'"

"When I left San Francisco I carried back with me enough more orders from our California distributors to make our 1923 schedule 2 1/2 times that of 1922. The original order for 1923 was twice that of last year but after the coast shows it was increased again because of the interest shown in the new models."

Eczema-Skin Eruptions Disappear

Use Hokara for this and Other Skin Diseases Which Ruin Complexion.

A clean, fair complexion is the most noticeable of woman's charms—look to your skin for your pleasing healthy appearance. Thousands of people suffer the unbearable itching and thoughts of skin broken out and marred by eczema. Most folks are even sensitive and embarrassed at their own appearance.

The majority of people trust to time and nature to get rid of their pimples and blemishes just because they dislike to use a greasy, smelly ointment or salve. The treatment that does away with this unpleasantness is the Hokara treatment—modern, effective and pleasant. Does not soil clothing or leave skin greasy.

The power of Hokara to relieve quickly any itching or burning of the skin and to make it soft, white and velvety is almost miraculous. Minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, barbers' itch, etc., quickly respond to Hokara. Even the worst cases of eczema, ulcers, skin rheum and chronic skin diseases are successfully treated with Hokara. The marred complexion becomes noticeably less each day, leaving as it fades away a clear, healthy skin.

STATE BUREAU REVIEWS OIL SITUATION

"The continuous intensive drilling of the Huntington Beach, Long Beach and Santa Fe Springs oil fields of Southern California has brought oil production to the saturation point," says a bulletin of the California State Mining Bureau, Department of Petroleum and Gas.

"Almost a half million barrels of crude oil is flowing daily from the three southern fields. Since frenzied town-let development started in the early part of 1921, there has been only one way of preventing such an outcome—to curtail drilling. The complicated interests of lessors, royalty holders, drilling contractors and town lot operators, seem to have made accomplishment of a concerted effort in this direction impossible. A forced reduction in drilling and production through the inexorable workings of the law of supply and demand appears to be the only remedy.

"Four reductions in the value of the crude product within a year have caused no appreciable check in drilling. Over 500 wells are now drilling in the three fields. A recent movement to restrict the output of individual wells will further curtail the profits derivable from each producing unit. The oversupply is being more actively maintained by initial productions of wells just completed than the rapidly declining old wells. Initial production of 12 wells recently completed at Santa Fe Springs averaged 2550 barrels per well as compared with an average daily production of 1600 barrels per well for all producing wells in the field.

"It should be borne in mind—in this town-let development—that an appreciable amount of drilling has been financed by people not experienced in the oil industry. They have invested in things hoped for rather than seen. Probably such drilling will continue regardless of the profit that can be realized from the product. It is estimated that $55,000,000 has been expended in drilling alone since the field started. The three fields have produced approximately 90,700,000 barrels from January 1, 1921, to May 1, 1923.

"At the beginning of 1921 there were 43 producers of petroleum in Los Angeles and Orange counties. In January, 1923, the number of producers had increased to 175. There has been no material change in the number of marketing concerns. Five of the large marketing companies of California are confronted with the huge task of taking care of a major portion of the production, providing transportation, storage, and refining facilities, for a greater additional quantity of crude oil than these same companies handled throughout the entire plant of the industry at the beginning of 1921.

"Marketers cannot receive oil or provide storage for it beyond the conservative limits of their financial resources or responsibility. The cost of building steel storage tanks is 55 to 60 cents per barrel of capacity. The Santa Fe Springs oil field can fill five 55,000 barrel tanks in one day.

"Some of the factors of the present situation as affecting the public are these:

"The laws of supply and demand and the natural competition in the industry has given the public the benefit of exceptionally low prices of gasoline. Gasoline in California is now retailing for the lowest price it has reached in seven years. But the factor that is forcing a reduction in the price of gasoline, namely, over-production of refinable crudes, is drawing in a wasteful way on reserves of crude oil and natural gas which properly should be conserved for the future. The necessity of giving the maximum accommodation in transportation, storage and refinery facilities, for the refinable crudes of a marked curtailment in production and transportation of low grade crudes in other fields, the principal source of California's fuel oil."

RUSH WATER PLANT FOR COUNTY PARK

ORANGE, May 14.—With the arrival of a delayed shipment of pipe, work on the pump domestic water system of the Orange county park will be rushed to completion by Leadbetter and company, contractor.

A pump is to be installed at the park well to pump water to the tank on a hill nearby, providing pressure for the water.

A septic tank is to be built soon to take care of the sewage of the park and other work is to be rushed before the summer is over. Large crowds are daily at the park, which is proving a more popular place each season.

Near East Picture At Tustin School

TUSTIN, May 14.—Thursday, May 17, at 12:45 p. m. a three-reel educational feature picture of the work of the Near East Relief at Alexandropol, Armenia, will be shown in the auditorium of the local high school, for the purpose of helping the Near East Relief.

All of the students and friends of the school are cordially invited to come and are asked to bring any old clothing not needed or one or more cans of milk, to send to the needy Armenian school children through the Near East Relief.

The recent campaign of the H. Y. for the purpose of getting old clothes for the poor children came to a successful close last week and the society turned in robats will be put through their tricks by this unbeatable circus director.

A continuous performance will be going on in the high school auditorium, where dancers "gathered from all the countries" will put on a great dance revue, and where musicians will do stunts with horns and band instruments that even Sousa has never heard about. In between these two acts there will be clowns performing in front of the curtain who guarantee to make the "big" acts look sick.

More than two dozen side shows will be going on continuously. "Horror of Hades," the "Underworld of Paris," "Swat the Faculty" (claimed to be the most popular side show on the grounds), all kinds of thrilling shows where electrical wizards will do their stuff, the fat lady, the talking skull, and all the things that give you the shivers, plenty of things to eat, bands and orchestras at every turn—in fact just the maximum of noise, foolishness and fun.

Every high school teacher, every club in school, and almost all the pupils are working for the success of the "greatest show on earth." Tickets are on sale at the Santa Ana book store and at the high school.

phases of ex-service men was formulated. National Sous Chefs de Fer Clarence Cronkite, who also attended the Kansas City meeting and who will have charge of the orphans' program in California, will be in Santa Ana Wednesday night and explain the plan of the Veterans' Welfare Committee of the 40-8 to the Orange county members.

The initiatory work at the big promenade will be exemplified by Chief Gare A. W. Smith, of the Los Angeles County Volture No. 47. He will bring his crack wrecking crew, in charge of Dr. J. C. Couturier, and their carload of props. A large body of the Los Angeles voyagers militaire, as the members are called, will also come to the big celebration as will the officers and members of the San Bernardino Volture and the Riverside County Volture. Grand Chief de Train Floyd Wilson is also expected to be present.

La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux was organized in 1920 by a group of Legionnaires who felt that the formal meetings of the American Legion did not provide an outlet for the fun-making tendencies of the ex-soldier, sailor and marine. At the Kansas City national convention the society had grown to be such a success that it was officially designated as a social auxiliary body of the Legion.

What the Shrine is to Masonry the 40-8 Society is to the Legion. The nation-wide organization now has a membership of approximately 100,000, and has more than 500 Local Voltures in various sections of the country. It is also organized in Mexico, Canal Zone and the Hawaiian Islands. It takes its name from the French railway cars in which the American soldiers were transported during the war. The cars were marked "40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux," or 40 men and 8 horses. Only white male American Legion members in good standing who have performed some distinguished service for the Legion are eligible to become members of the 40-8.

Following are the names of the Orange county men who will be initiated Wednesday night. Hugh A. Miller, Dean M. Buffum, Donald A. Simpson, Donald C. Jones, Charles C. Chapman, E. J. Marks, Clyde A. Bruce, Fullerton; A. S. Ralph, H. G. Upham, Orange; Z. B. West Jr., M. B. Wellington, Fred J. Parker, Cornish; J. Roehm, J. L. Robertson, Robert Collins, H. J. Lemke, Sam L. Collins, Robert Ridenour, John W. Hebson, Oliver N. Thornton, A. G. Cooke, Elmer Shanley, Clyde C. Whitney, Claude Potter, W. E. Almon, Leon H. Baker, Elmer L. Christensen, Arch F. Beddingham, Henry A. Balen, Ernest Winbiller, Edwin McFadden, Claude L. Sleeper, Donald S. Hopkins, Arthur J. Brady, Walter E. Gerken, Henry C. Meehan, Joseph A. Plank, Sidney W. Allender, Robert W. Collins, Ralph W. Cole, Franklin L. Grouard, Santa Ana; William P. Webb, Anaheim.

The motor car trade "spring opening" was in full blast today under the name of the "Call of the open road," and will continue for one week.

Many of the Orange county dealers are co-operating in the movement by making special exhibits at their show rooms.

Dealer associations in Southern California are urging recognition of the week by merchants by proper display of merchandise suitable for motoring and camp life. "Get out into the open." This is the slogan, virtually, for dealers and motorists, the campaign being designed largely to draw attention to the fact that the season for touring has arrived.

OPERA NUMBERS HITS OF BAND SELECTIONS

or, and George Smith, baritone.

Thavie exercised a happy choice of numbers for his evening program. There was music for the "highbrow," such as the aria from the opera "La Traviata" (Verdi) by the soprano, and popular numbers for the "lowbrows" such as "Three O'Clock in the Morning." Popular numbers and patriotic airs received fully as much applause as did the more classical selections.

The selections from the operas were, for the most part, rendered in English, a concession which was greatly appreciated by the audience. Mrs. Cummings was especially pleasing in the duet from "Rigoletto" (Verdi) which she sang with Mr. Smith, the band accompanying.

A pleasing contrast in the character of musical selections was offered in the successive offering of "The Boys and the Birds" (Turner) and "Over the Top" (Turner). "Over the Top" was the former was the effect of the birds whistling while in the Drigo number was the exotic effect of the accented tempo. Offered in sequence, both numbers were increased in effectiveness.

The complete program of the evening concert follows:

Overture "Oberon" (Weber), band.

Tenor solo, "Let Her Believe Me" from "The Girl of the Golden West" (Puccini).

A. "La Millions" (Drigo), band.

B. "The Boys and the Birds" (Turner), band.

Trios from the opera "La Traviata" (Verdi), Mrs. Cummings, Mr. Brad, Mr. Smith.

Overture from "William Tell" (Rossini), band.

Soprano solo, aria from the opera "La Traviata" (Verdi), Mrs. Cummings.

Requested, "Humoresque" (Dvo-rak), band.

Duet from the opera "Rigoletto" (Verdi), finale from act two, Mrs. Cummings, Mr. Smith.

Waltz, "Blue Danube" (Straus), trio solo, band.

"America."

Santa Ana will have no more Chautauqua programs, in the opinion of Freeman H. Bloodgood, president of the committee of guarantors for the Chautauqua which concluded its program here last night.

The sixty-seven guarantors last Wednesday had to take four season tickets each to complete the guarantee given Ellison White, Bloodgood announced. He said, however, that it was possible that the guarantors sold most of these.

"There is a feeling here that giving a guarantee is a one-sided affair," said Bloodgood, adding that only ten persons last night volunteered to become guarantors for a Chautauqua program next year.

Discussing the reasons for lack of interest and patronage here, Bloodgood said: "The Chautauqua season here comes at the time of year when pupils and teachers of the school are very busy at the end of the school term. Again, we have much talent here that is superior to some of the lightest talent on the program. Our musical association supplies our hunger for high class music, leaving the lecture feature of the Chautauqua program about the only items that may be considered as offering real interest to our people."

George Dunton, local Ford and Lincoln distributor, today had established a new record for Orange county, by receipt of a full carload of Ford parts. According to R. R. McDonald, salesmanager for Dunton, this is the first carload of automobile parts ever delivered in Orange county.

Arrival of the carload followed a shipment of one-third of a carload arriving three weeks ago. McDonald says the parts stocked will carry the local agency through the summer and into next winter. He pointed out that the big order had been placed specially to make available to local Ford users immediate delivery of any part that might be needed.

Included in the last shipment was 500 axle shafts, 150 fenders, 1080 brake shoes and 1000 tires. The shipment was valued at $20,000.

The Standard Oil company, represented by R. E. Donovan, will show the picture at the Fullerton union high school Monday at 10:30 a. m. in the Assembly hall and at 8 p. m. in the Choral hall. There is no charge for admission.

Oil Company Movie To Cut Accidents

Early this year some of the largest oil companies of California engaged motion picture operators, actors and actresses, with a view to evolving a film story to appeal to the imagination of their men and women and thus still further reduce unnecessary suffering and loss from accidents. The film was produced by a combination of professional actors and actresses and oil men in scenes laid at Santa Fe Springs and elsewhere in the oil fields.

The story relates the adventures of a young oil worker. It is an interesting tale portraying the young man's life, love and work. Those who have seen the picture agree that it is based on a remarkable idea and that the story has a wonderful appeal.

Three members of the cast of "The Mikado," famous light opera to be given by the Orange County Choral Union under the direction of Ellis Rhodes, May 24 and 25, will appear in costume and present several of the popular numbers now in rehearsal.

Two Orpheum vaudeville turns also are programmed for the evening. Business will include a discussion of various topics and a reading of the secretary's report.

Members of the association have agreed to invite as the guests for the occasion such merchants and manufacturers of Santa Ana who are not affiliated with the association.

Tickets for the two performances are now on sale at the Santa Ana Book store, or may be obtained from members of the Choral union.

LEASES STORE TO SELL NEW OIL COOLER

Leasing the store room at 417 North Broadway, A. R. House today was making preparation for opening business here June 1 for installation of the Metzgar oil cooling radiator, for which he has secured the Southern California agency.

The cooler is more or less new in this vicinity. House, however, expects to develop a big business when its perfection and benefits are fully realized by owners of cars.

The system is an oil radiator installed in front of the water radiator. It is nickel plated and adds beauty to the appearance of a car on which it is installed.

"The hot oil is pumped out of the sump of a motor and is forced through a pump line into the oil radiator, where the oil is cooled and returned to the bearings at the proper temperature, thus assuring perfect lubrication," said House today, in explaining operation of the equipment.

"The oil radiator system saves from 25 to 50 per cent in oil lubricating costs of operating a motor, the saving varying according to the condition of the motor. Cooled oil reduces crankshaft wear, saves regrinding and increases the life of bearings. It also maintains a good seal at the piston rings, reduces oil dilution and adds life to the cylinders and pistons. It will also have the effect of increasing gasoline mileage."

Rock Company Files Incorporation Papers

Articles of incorporation of the Orange County Rock company, capitalized at $500,000, were filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs. Five directors, A. G. Wright, Frank Duff, F. V. Barkman, H. B. Wright and K. M. Wright, each subscribed $100 each.

The company will deal in cement, rock, gravel, sand and kindred supplies.

RICKARD TO STAGE JESS-FIRPO BATTLE

Expert Says Willard Must Show Wares Again to Get Dempsey Bout

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 14.—The boxing world is waiting for the fight between Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, largest and most important of those who survived the heavyweight carnival Saturday will be signed to today to meet on June 30, if the plans of Tex Rickard go through.

The conquerors of Floyd Johnson and Jack McAuliffe have been asked to confer with Rickard and his terms. Both are said to be willing to meet if the terms are satisfactory and Rickard usually has a satisfying way about him.

Willard, however, may not like the date and if he objects too strongly and demands a longer rest, Rickard will try to find a later date.

Must Take on Firpo
The former heavyweight champion will be forced to meet Firpo if he wants the public to support him in his campaign to get another crack at Jack Dempsey. Willard has satisfied those who doubted that he could come back, but his form was not impressive enough to swing opinion in the belief that he was ready now for a return bout with the champion.

Firpo came out of the carnival as the most impressive of the big contenders. It was not the mere feat of knocking out young McAuliffe, but the artistic manner in which he did it that made Firpo the outstanding man on the card.

Wise boxing fans who saw all the natural fighting qualities in the South American were saying today that if Dempsey is going "to take him on, he had better waste no time." The longer Jimmy DeForest works with the Argentine giant, the more difficult Dempsey will experience.

Improvement Remarkable
The change that DeForest worked in Firpo since Firpo knocked out Bill Brennan is almost remarkable. In the short space of a few weeks, DeForest brought about almost a miraculous improvement in the Senor, and he hasn't had a good start yet. It took DeForest two long hard years to make Dempsey and he hasn't had Firpo for six months.

Floyd Johnson, the gamest young fellow who ever went into a ring, was knocked out by Willard, but it does not follow that he is through.

On the other hand that set back may be the making of him. If he can be taught to hit, as others have been taught before him, Johnson is bound to pop up again as a logical contender and with the great heart that the younger possesses, he is bound to develop.

HERE'S WHERE BIG BOXERS TANGLE FOR TITLE NEXT JULY 4

This is the natural amphitheater near Shelby, Montana, where Jack Dempsey will meet Tommy Gibbons July 4. Seating facilities for thousands can be arranged easily, promoters say. Shelby, an oil boom town, has a population of about 1,000 persons. It is approximately 50 miles from the Canadian border.

LITTLE SUNSHINE CLUB CAPTURES ORANGE COUNTY 'Y' TRACK TITLE

The Little Sunshine club of Yorba Linda today held the championship banner of the Orange county Y. M. C. A. following the annual 'Y' track and field meet at the Fullerton high school field last Saturday afternoon in which approximately 250 boys from more than 50 clubs in this section competed.

The Little Sunshiners scored 915 points. The Black Wolf club of Santa Ana was second with 857 points and the Spark Plug club of Yorba Linda ranked third with 716 points.

Paul Burneson, competing for the Spark Plugs, won the individual award in the 125 pound class with 123 points. Donald Gulledge of the Orange Panther club won the 110 pound class title with 106 points. Earl Holland of the Orange Eagle club captured the consolation among the 90-pounders. He tallied 105 points.

PLAN TO SEND H. B. TRACK STARS EAST

National Prep School High Hurdle Record Equalled By Ross Nichols

Undaunted by the bunch of hard luck which their team encountered at the California Interscholastic meet at Patterson field, Occidental college, last Saturday, and which caused them to finish behind Hollywood, Sacramento, Red Bluff and Pasadena for the state title, athletic enthusiasts at Huntington Beach today began a campaign to send their four star performers, Nichols, Nash, Bickmore and Elliott, along with Coach Ray Walker to the National Interscholastic meet at Chicago to be held the last of this month.

The high school treasury already has $200 for the expense money necessary to defray the transportation of the quartette. M. A. McCreery, former secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, today donated $50 to the fund and said he would have raised that much more by tomorrow morning.

At the same time other athletic followers prepared to begin a drive to raise the rest of the amount in the quest for the national track championship.

Nichols Sets Record.
Nichols, having captured the 120 yard high hurdles at the state meet and incidentally equalled the national high school record of 15.2 seconds for the race, will be sent east by the C. I. F. All of the first place men at the meet are to make the trip with the state organization paying the expense. They leave Friday night.

Charlie Bickmore, the great beach all-around star, has his share of tough luck in the meet. He finished neck and neck with Kaer of Red Bluff in the high barrier event but the judges ruled the Northern athlete had bested him for second. Bickmore then proceeded to vault over a height which would have given him first place in the pole vault but in coming down he barely touched the bar and it fell to the ground. Bickmore injured his shoulder in the fall to the ground and was not up to his best form thereafter.

Perhaps the greatest blow to the Huntington Beach hopes was the spiking of Milt Nash in the 440 yard dash. Off to a good start in the quarter-mile grind, Nash took the pole and kept out in front until the runners hit the back turn.

Pollack Fouls Nash.
Pollack, of Sacramento, there attempted to pass the flying beach boy. He cut directly in front of him, committing an obvious foul. Nash tried to push Pollack out of his way but the latter's spikes dug into the Huntington Beach boy's knee. Fighting gamely, way out of stride for a place, Nash tried to limp in for a place but he was passed in the last twenty yards, as was Pollack, and was unable to finish among the first four.

Hanford, of Manual Arts, a runner whom Nash defeated by at least five yards in the All-Southern meet here three weeks ago, won the event in 52.35 seconds.

Elliott, the star beach broad jumper, leaped 22 feet 4 inches. This mark would have won nine out of ten state meets but it was good for only a fourth Saturday.

Kaer of Red Bluff established a new state record with a lunge of 23 feet 2 inches.

At Tustin Tomorrow
In Fight for Title

With its chance to continue in the fight for the Orange league baseball championship at stake, the Santa Ana high school team will meet the Tustin high school nine at Tustin tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The regular Poly-Tustin fray was postponed and although the Orange Growers have no chance to win the flag they requested the game be played. If Santa Ana wins, it will play Whittier for second place in the league probably Friday afternoon. If Tustin wins, Poly is out of the fight for the title.

If Santa Ana defeats both Tustin and Whittier and then can defeat Fullerton in the championship series the title will come to the local school along with the right to enter the play-off for the Southern California championship.

NEW YORK—Such crowds charged a Broadway theater where films of the heavyweight carnival were being shown yesterday that police reserves had to be called.

PARIS—Battling Siki, former European heavyweight champion, was painfully injured when a pet lion took a bite out of his hand. The same lion caused a panic several days ago when it loosed in a crowded eating place.

SALT LAKE CITY—"When he is in condition, Willard is a great fighter. I expect to see him win. Firpo is a comer. I have never seen him, but from reports, he is there. The more the merrier for me," Jack Dempsey commented on the results of the New York heavyweight show.

BIG GAME PICTURE AT PRINCESS TUESDAY

Everyone doubtless thinks they have experienced one great thrill in the course of their lives, but until they have spent a night in the heart of British East Africa, they have the greatest thrill still ahead of them according to Mrs. Johnson, who with her husband recently returned to America after more than two years spent trailing African wild animals in their native haunts.

Under the title of "Trailing African Wild Animals" this remarkable motion picture subject will be presented at the Princess theater, starting Tuesday.

Mrs. Johnson is the first lady to penetrate the "Never Never Land" and she and her husband are the only ones to discover the lost Lake Paradise, a haunt of big game guarded carefully by the natives who exist in this territory. The Johnsons refuse to divulge the exact location of Lake Paradise as they claim to be the only two white people in possession of the secret.

As a reward for the two years' pilgrimage in the wilds of Africa, securing these marvelous pictures, the American Museum of Natural History has stamped its approval on the film. This is the only motion picture subject that has ever received the endorsement of the American Museum of Natural History.

"ROSE O' THE SEA" DUE AT WEST END
Always a charming and luminous subject for photographic study, Anita Stewart, is said to have filmed at her most attractive degree in "Rose o' the Sea," the current attraction at the West End theater.

"Rose o' the Sea" is an intensely human story of the rounds of New York with a brief eye opener along the rock bound New England coast. The plot concerns Rose Eton, protegee of the sea, who is tossed into the arms of a veteran old salt from the deck of a sinking liner. Unable to find her parents the old man adopts her and cares for her until his death when she is left penniless to fight her own battles.

"Rose o' the Sea" is the long promised screen adaptation of the novel of the same name by Countess Barcynska. Fred Niblo directed and cast includes, in addition to the star, Randolph Cameron, Thomas Holding, Margaret Landis, Kate Lester, Hallon Cooley, John P. Lockney, and Charles Belcher.

"THE WOMAN CONQUERS" AT YOST MONDAY
Katherine MacDonald and her associates of "The Woman Conquers" cast experienced all sorts of climatic difficulties during the filming of some of the important snow scenes in the attraction which will be seen for the first time in this city at the Yost to-night and tomorrow.

The actors were not greatly concerned because of the fact that the snow near Truckee, in the northern part of California, was eight feet deep on an average, but they protested volubly and vehemently when they found the weather man was against them and their efforts were against the ordering of climate to the extent of ordering almost every day during their stay in the snow country.

"THE NTH COMMANDMENT" COMING TO YOST
Did you ever wish to be able to see yourself as you look to others while attending a motion picture? Well, your chance comes in the production, "The Nth Commandment," which will be shown at the Yost theater next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. A movie within a movie is the feature. Colleen Moore, James Morrison and Eddie Phillips are the leading players.

RIVERSIDE GIANTS EASY FOR IRVINES

It was a dark day for the Riverside Colored Giants baseball team out at the Irvine baseball field yesterday afternoon.

Big "Dutch" Hinrichs was bearing down in rare form when the final inning had been completed. Manager Arthur Trickey's pets were way out in front of the team which tripped the Anaheim Elks. The final tally was 9 to 2.

The bean growers hammered three of the Riverside mound artists to all corners of the lot, collecting eleven blows. The colored players were able to nick Hinrichs for only six scattered bingles.

In The Big Leagues

Hugh McQuillan let the Pirates down with two hits and the Giants won 9 to 0. Frank Frisch, with a single, double and triple, led the attack of the Giants.

Harry Heilmann's double with two on gave the Detroit Tigers the run that defeated the Yankees 4 to 1 and gave the champions their first set back of their western invasion.

Mostil's sacrifice fly in the 8th inning scored the run that allowed the White Sox to beat the Athletics 3 to 2.

Warmouth went wild in the sixth inning and the Cleveland Indians scored three runs which gave them a 5 to 2 victory over the Senators.

After holding the Cubs to three hits and no run for six innings, Dazzy Vance turned dizzy and the Cubs piled up five runs, beating the Robins 5 to 2.

Kenneth Williams' eighth homer and the tight pitching of Urban Shocker helped the Browns beat the Red Sox 3 to 0.

SACCO BEATS MCGOWAN.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Jimmy Sacco beat Terry McGowan in the four round headliner at Dreamland rink last night. Dick Hoppe's punishment of Bert Morgan, Stockton youth, was stopped in the fourth round and the decision given to Hoppe.

GIANTS, YANKS HOLD OWN AGAINST WEST

NEW YORK, May 14.—Holding their own against the strong western clubs and looking more impressive all the time, the New York Giants and Yankees are getting a good start for another pennant.

The Giants took two out of three games from the Cubs last week and they mauled the Pirates yesterday. The Yankees took two from the Cleveland Indians and dropped their first game of the trip to the Tigers.

The Reds and the Cards have done the best of the western National league clubs against the eastern teams and the Cards seemed to be finding themselves after a very shaky start. The Reds, counted on to be dangerous contenders, continue to be a disappointment. The Phils and the Boston Red Sox still hold the title of the season best "muds" and the St. Louis Browns are missing George Sisler terribly.

Hitting continues brisk in both leagues. Charlie Grimm, Pittsburgh first baseman, hit safely in 23 consecutive games and Harry Heilmann, Detroit outfielder, has not failed to hit in 19 straight games.

Alexander, the great Cub pitcher, is going for a record. He has appeared in 51 innings this season and has not issued a base on balls or hit a batter.

LUMBER PLANT IS PROPOSED AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, May 14.—Promising to build wholesale lumber yards and to employ from 200 to 250 men, Russell Craig Patterson has presented a proposition to the city board of trustees that, if carried out, will result in the largest commercial enterprise ever brought to this district.

Invest $150,000.
Mr. Patterson told the trustees that his company would make an investment of $150,000 in yards and equipment and would put in a stock of $500,000 in addition to building a sash and door plant. For this he asks that the city permit his company to use the Newport pier for unloading his vessels and give him an exclusive right to the wharf.

He stated that it was not practical at the present time to bring lumber into the inner harbor as it cost as much to bring in a vessel from Puget Sound carrying a million feet of lumber as one carrying 2,500,000 feet. He declared that it would be necessary to fight San Pedro in order to get a harbor established at this point and that as a result it would be necessary to have exclusive use of the docks.

Want Exclusive Use.

Mr. Patterson pointed out that his company would carry at least 5,000,000 feet of lumber at the local yards, and that in addition to a sash and door plant a planing mill would be built. He believed there was sufficient business in the back country to warrant such an enterprise, but declared there was not enough for two such concerns. He felt exclusive use of the dock should be given until such time as a thirty-foot channel was established in the inner harbor, and that as much lumber as possible would be brought into the harbor in the meantime.

Mr. Patterson was asked to put his proposition in writing and present it at the next meeting of the board.

ORANGE SCHOOL IS TO PUT ON SHAKESPEARE

ORANGE, May 14.—Final rehearsals are being carried on this week for the presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew," Friday, May 8.

This comedy is to be the senior class play and it is said to be the first Shakespearean presentation by a high school class in the county.

F. L. Carrier has charge of the production and he is arranging in Los Angeles for the proper costumes and stage settings.

ASK NEW BIDS ON LA HABRA SCHOOL

LA HABRA, May 14.—New bids have been called for on the construction of the projected Lincoln Park school, following a meeting of the school board at which revised plans were made. Following the rejection of the bids received ten days ago, the board held several consultations and finally agreed on plans which, it is believed, will bring the cost within the amount available.

Under the new plans five separate contracts are provided, instead of twenty, as in the original. Bids for the work are to be opened May 24, and the work will be pushed so as to have the school ready for the coming school year.

FULLERTON SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

FULLERTON, May 14.—The senior play, by Fullerton Union High school, entitled, "Golden Days," by Marion Short and Sidney Toler, is already launched on the way to production, though the exact date has not been set.

According to Miss Marion Helm, instructor in senior dramatics, this four-act play is considered by the class the most delightful one ever selected by seniors of Fullerton high school. It is a modern comedy and carries a pretty story of steadfast love finally rewarded.

Rehearsals so far has assigned the following parts: Elaine, Leona Underwood; Mary Ann, Elba Badgley; Trella, Elsie Smith; Patty, Mary Abbott; Mrs. Kirkland, Kathryn Bryan; Miss Slesky, Zada Smith; Fern, Halderman; Flica, Barnadette Koch; Belsey, Hester Jaynes; Billy, Fred Hezmal; Dick, Merrill Gregory; Ted, Ed Records; Charlie, Maynard Dunbar.

KING TUT HANDMAIDENS TO SERVE JUICE SANS "KICK"

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Visitors to the third annual California Valencia Orange show will have to drink their orange juice straight.
A pair of zealous prohibition agents, L. D. Dolley and Lester Davis, uprooted a "gin tree" in full bloom and arrested Peter Exter on a charge of violating the prohibition laws.

Exter, the officers said, was engaged in grafting a slug of gin to a quantity of orange juice when the officers entered the supposed vacant house which they said he had been used as a blind for a distilling outfit. The alleged process plant was located less than stone's throw from the big tents of the orange show.

"Well," said Exter, "I figured that if so many people could be interested in oranges that I might possibly find some who were interested in gin. So I thought I would bring the ginless orange the orange-less gin."

The girls in the picture, cream of orange belt queens, will serve the latter only, according to Malcolm Fraser, show manager.

NEW RECORD IS SET CLEANING ORANGE "O"

(Special to The Register)
ORANGE, May 14.—A new speed record was set by the senior class Friday in cleaning off the big "O" which is on the hills in back of Villa Park. Thirty-five minutes was the total time consumed in the job.

Students Parade.
The students, dressed in various stages of alleged comic representation, paraded around town before 8:30 o'clock, advertising the class and the class play, "The Taming of the Shrew."

After a hilarious joy ride and a short walk hill house cleaning began.

Go in Swimming.
Everything having been given the "once over" by the 110 seniors, the class went to the county park for lunch and a swim in the lake. Few casualties were experienced beside the loss of "Egg" Dole's "specks."

Two o'clock found the busses full for the return trip. The crowd went home by way of Villa Park and Olive in order to distribute handbills portraying the excellence of Shakespeare's famous comedy which is to be presented next Friday night.

DEBATE PLANS AT COLLEGE CHANGED

FULLERTON, May 14.—Debate in Fullerton junior college will be handled on a new and enlarged basis next year.

The school plans to enter various Southern California debating leagues. This will assure a more regular and carefully worked-out program than has been possible in the past. Up to this time debates have been scheduled between schools at a time when convenient to both. This caused a lot of trouble in arrangement and resulted in a minimum of debates. There has been only one local debate this year, in which the local college tied with Santa Ana. Fullerton had other debates, but due to their unimportant nature were rather poorly attended. This will be changed with the new schedule in effect, as there will be something to work for. The change seems to be all for the best and debating should take on new life, students say.

Anaheim Council Awards Contracts for Paving Jobs

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Street paving contracts involving the expenditure of more than $127,000 were awarded by the Anaheim City council Saturday, when bids were opened for work on boulevards in Mills Park, on Helena, Zeyn, Walnut, Sycamore, Citron and West streets and on several alleys in the business section of the city.

This is only a part of the large paving project planned for 1923, which is said to be the most extensive ever undertaken during one year in the history of the city. The Griffith Paving company was awarded the contract for all work except that of paving the alleys, which will be done by the Edwin B. Garreston company of Long Beach.

FINANCIAL HEALTH IN ANAHEIM SHOWN

ANAHEIM, May 14.—The financially healthful condition of Anaheim was indicated clearly when City Clerk Ed Merritt presented his annual report. The city's growth also appeared in the mounting expenditure for public projects. Anaheim received $43,574.35 in water collections the past year; $103,231.00 in light and power fees; $78,823.81 in taxes; $261,965.20 from bonds sold; and a total of $743,394.31.

Expenditures in the waterworks account amounted to $61,713.81; on 59; on joint sewer construction, $14,651.98; on electric service, $59,963.08; on public streets, $60,764.05; on interest redemption, $37,542.15; on the municipal building, $77,376.76. Cash on hand May 1, 1923, amounted to $300,898.86 against $117,126.29 May 1, 1922, sales boosting this total.

Segregating different items, receipts from electric service increased by $25,270.05; for water service, $10,236.90; license fees $1,723.50. Seven hundred and forty-nine building permits were issued, covering a valuation estimated at $1,814,076.25.

The real estate and other property owned by the city amounts to $693,085.66.

Cash balances on hand include $25,679.53 in the general fund, $69,166.80 in the sewer construction fund, $101,088.17 in the park improvement fund, $36,175.84 in the municipal building completion fund and $26,210.85 in the street improvement fund.

CITRUS MEN AT ORANGE FORM NEW BRANCH

(Special to The Register)
ORANGE, May 14.—At an enthusiastic meeting of citrus growers held here in the chamber of commerce rooms at the city hall, the Orange Mutual Citrus association was formally organized.

Much Interest Shown.
Keen interest has been displayed by the orange and lemon growers throughout the district in the formation of this new association as it has been the desire of many representative growers to avail themselves of M. O. D. sales service. From the time that F. S. Ruggles, field representative of the Mutual Orange distributors, and L. F. Finley undertook to create interest in the organization they have been cordially received by the growers and in the short time consumed in making a canvass of the district they have lined up an excellent business. The interest displayed by the growers is evidenced by the fact that the Mutual Orange and lemon association was needed to handle the rapidly increasing citrus crop in the district.

Here Are Directors.
The following prominent growers will constitute the board of directors: H. S. Greenwald, G. V. Struck, George L. Bates, G. A. Shoemaker and John Bosch.

Following the general meeting the directors met and elected H. S. Greenwald, president; G. V. Struck, vice president; and George L. Bates, secretary. L. F. Finley, 521 North Glassell street, Orange, will serve as manager of the association.

With the organization of the Orange Mutual Citrus association the M. O. D. now have a complete chain of co-operative orange and lemon associations throughout Orange county at Anaheim, Olive Garden, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Yorba Linda, La Habra and Placentia.

Shades of Ben Hur To Make Appearance

FULLERTON, May 14.—A new event will be added to the list of inter-class track events next year. This event will be a chariot race.

The chariots are now under construction in the manual training department. They were designed by R. S. Marsden, instructor in that department.

Each chariot will be pulled by four boys, and will carry one passenger.

VALENCIA SHOW NEARLY READY FOR OPENING

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Amid a setting that will be as beautiful and colorful as the old palaces of the Pharaohs on the banks of the Nile, the third Annual California Valencia Orange Show will be held at Anaheim for nine days beginning May 22.

Although California Valencia oranges, famous wherever the golden fruit is known, will be the principal exhibit, the Exposition will by no means be confined to this fruit. Southern California lemons, grapefruit and avocados, the most nutritious fruit known, will also have a prominent place in the show.

Tents in City Park.
The site of the 1923 exposition is the Anaheim city park, less than two blocks from the heart of the city. Two huge tents, the largest that have ever been used, will house the exhibits. One tent will be given over to the display of Valencia oranges, lemons, grapefruit and avocados. The other tent will be the Automotive and Industrial tent where the latest models in pleasure cars, accessories and automotive farm implements will be displayed. Herbert Davis, of Anaheim, is in charge of this department.

The two tents, when the decorations are in place, will resemble Egyptian palaces of thirty centuries ago. The entire decoration scheme is taken from the Egyptian and it will be so complete that when all the drapes, panels, borders and images are in place, the idea that the affair is being held under canvas will be entirely dispelled.

Drapes Depict History.
One of the largest borders ever made in California will surround the interior of the Citrus exhibit tent. Upon it will be depicted the history of Egypt from the time of Ramesses III down to the present. Eight huge drapes, each 135 feet long, and profusely decorated with Egyptian characters, sacred images and other replicas of centuries long past, will entirely encase the tent poles and will give them the appearance of massive columns.

There will be more than thirty carloads of oranges, lemons, grapefruit and avocados on exhibit. Fifteen feature displays, most of them animated, will be erected in the center of the tent, while the individual growers exhibits will line the sides.

Fullerton Realty Men Seek Changes
FULLERTON, May 14.—So that there will be greater protection of the investor in Fullerton real estate, and that the city may be built on a foundation that will prevent the manipulations of the "wildcat" real estate speculator, the Fullerton realty board has gone on record as favoring legislation by the city council that would shorten the term of improvement bonds and make it imperative on the part of the subdividers to improve the tract offered for sale within a reasonable length of time and not within a period of one year, as is now permissible under the existing city ordinance.

The resolution, which calls for action at once, and the appointment of a committee of four was introduced by Hugh Miller, president of the Hugh Miller Realty company, who declared that the time in the development of Fullerton had arrived when all should join in evolving legislation that would result ultimately in the protection of the purchase of Fullerton property.

Miller cited instances of the purchase of property where development had been delayed to the full extent of the period required by the city ordinance. This, he declared, was unfair to the purchaser and that the term of development bond should be shortened so that within a period estimated at from sixty to ninety days sidewalks, curbs and water, as well as other necessary improvements would be installed.

As a first step toward bringing the proposed legislation before the city council, a committee composed of R. S. Gregory, Hugh Miller, William Irwin and C. A. Bruce was appointed.

Following the election an interesting program was given. Mrs. H. Cordova Sloan gave a wonderful report on the Huntington library and pictures that in time will be presented to the city of Los Angeles. Mrs. Susie Rutherford spoke on current events.

The annual picnic of the club will be held at the close of the season, May 13, at Orange County Park. Members and friends are urged to attend. All those who can go please report to Mrs. Jarvis, chairman of transportation.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Buck Bodine, new owner of the old Webster ranch in Paradise Valley, makes the bomb with which the Basques blow up a dam built by Dick Acklin, big boss of the Double A ranch. Acklin, hearing of this, leads a lynch party to Bodine's place. He finds a dead man on the floor and Mercedes Arancas, beautiful Basque, in tears. Kildare, one of Acklin's men, secretly sends for the sheriff, who arrives shortly after Acklin.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY
Mercedes placed her hands on the shoulders of the two men. She seemed to gain strength from their very nearness of Kent and her uncle.

"You better go with Peter, too," Tuscarora advised. "We'll get you home in a few—He stopped as he caught sight of the grisly object in the corner. "Land!" he cried, "look here!"

The sheriff called in several of his deputies before he moved out of the kitchen.

"You know what the law is," he warned them. "You're here to defend it."

His shrewd eyes scanned Acklin's face. The Big Boss scowled darkly. As Land was about to step past him, the cattleman spoke.

"There's a dead man in the next room. That little putter-pigeon who came in with you has found him. You'd better let the corner take care of this."

The sheriff's mustache began to bristle.

"According to last reports, the county is payin' me my wages; not you. Don't you be so hostile. Bodine grinned at this speech. His respect for the law increased a hundredfold.

Land hastily examined the dead man.

"Everybody step in here," he ordered. He got to his feet and wiped his hands on his trousers.

"Who knows about this?" he continued. "He ain't been dead long."

Bodine answered him. Had not this good sheriff saved his neck?

"I reckon I can tell you about it," he said. "Acklin knows too. Me and Kildare and the girl were here when it happened. She killed him."

"No," Land groaned, unable to believe his ears. "Not that little girl there."

"That's who I mean. She pulled my gun out of my holster and fired from the doorway."

The sheriff shook his head uneasily. His deputies—all Paradise men—caught their breath. Acklin glared at Bodine.

Kent placed his arm about Mercedes' shoulders.

"You didn't do this honey, did you?" he murmured.

"I... I... I don't... don't know," she sobbed. "I came to get Basilio. Bodine had him. He would not let me go. He said I must go away with him. I would not do that. He made the other man hurt the baby. He was... A son choked her."

Land's Basque deputies muttered angrily and the Double A men scowled at Bodine. Before Mercedes could go on, Acklin got the sheriff's attention.

"She don't know what she's saying," he cried. "She's in no condition to know what she did. You can't take the word of a hysterical girl. I know what happened. Kildare was here; he knows also. Bodine's trying to say his own skin. I ain't going to see this girl thrown into jail. I tell you, Bodine did it!"

The Big Boss turned until his eyes met Kildare's. They stared at each other for a full second before Acklin continued. The crowd caught the deadly intension of that glance. It held its breath again. The Big Boss turned back to the sheriff.

"You ask Kildare if what I say isn't so," he said. "The words clicked off his tongue."

Land arched his eyebrows.

"Well," he demanded.

It grew quiet. The crowd waited for Kildare's answer. He began to shake his head. He was speaking. The crowd strained its ears.

"That's not what happened," they heard him say.

He was about to go on when the kitchen door flew open and Big Homer, Acklin's Kelly Creek foreman, came in, herding before him Bodine's men. Morrow was back of him.

"Found these birds hidin' out in the hills beyond Lotard's shack," Cash announced. "Had to be a little bit rough with 'em before we could induce 'em to come along with us."

Nex Perce looked as if he had been rolled down a mountain-side. Some of the others were not much better off.

The room was in an uproar. Blaze walked over to the sheriff's side. Bodine was just behind him.

"That's my gun you've got there," he said. "I'll trouble you for it."

"Guess that's so," Blaze answered. He broke it and threw it into the air. It was daylight by now. Quite without premeditation, Kildare glanced at his watch. Bodine saw the charm that dangled from its chain. He reached out his hand to examine it.

"What you doin with his charm?" he asked.

"Your charm?" Blaze queried in a tone to match his own. "Melody gave me that weeks ago. Found it outside the Bull's Head. What makes you think it's yours?"

"I'd recognize that luck-piece with one eye shut. I fell off a horse once and bent that lower end there. That little trick has brought me plenty of luck." He pushed it back into Kildare's hand. "You keep it. We'll need some luck before this thing's over."

Buck had scented a possible ally in Blaze. He saw that Kildare and Acklin were against each other. Blaze wanted to shout: Bodine had killed Jose!

A PUZZLE A DAY

The diagram represents a barnyard, with a duck pond in the center. The four squares are duck-houses. The farmer built a fence that separated the duck-houses from the pond, while the duck-houses still had access to the pond. Can you trace the course of the fence?

Yesterday's answer: The vowels A E I O U appear in their alphabetical order in the word "facetious" (fA-cE-tiO-uS), and also in the word "abstemious" (AbStEmiOUs).

During the first nine days of this month fifteen men bought and here for the growing of Avocados. There are now trees in bearing and in perfect condition. These orchards when in good bearing will easily bring from $5000 per acre up and the crop returns from fully water stocked at $500 per acre, on 10 yearly payments. But it is being bought up very rapidly. One of our growers will not accept $10,000 for 2 acres in trees two years old. It is a delightful place to live. THOUSANDS ENJOY PICNICS AT PARK

With the annual picnic of American Legion posts, a general picnic of Orange County Local No. 166, Pressmen and Assistants, and a number of private picnic parties scheduling dates for Orange county park for the same day, that popular public playgrounds yesterday was the scene of what is declared to have been one of the largest gatherings of merry-makers assembling at that point in many months.

Legionnaires and their families rushed to the place in such numbers that the committee in charge was completely swamped in its program of sports and omitted them altogether. The former fighters and their families indulged themselves in their own individual ways and had an enjoyable time.

Dancing with Carrillo's orchestra supplying the music, was the principal entertainment.

Horseshoe and quilt pitching afforded diversion for some. The play equipment for children was crowded all day long with happy, delighted youngsters.

The pressmen union members and their families had a basket picnic lunch, following which they joined in the general entertainment features provided for the park.

FURNITURE PLANT SELECTS ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, May 14.—Plans for a $1,000,000 furniture factory in Anaheim was announced by Joe Siegel, Eastern capital will finance the project. If the building of the Anaheim Sugar company, recently purchased by the Holly Sugar corporation, can be obtained, the opening of the new factory will be possible within a comparatively short time, he said.

The new industry here, however, does not depend upon obtaining the sugar factory, Siegel declared. The furniture factory will positively be started in Anaheim. If a new structure had to be erected, however, the launching of the project would be delayed.

The climate of Southern California is regarded as ideal for a factory, because the thousands of square feet of room for drying and seasoning the lumber would be unnecessary. While Siegel could not speak, he said, for his associates in the matter of the factory's operation, much or most of the lumber would come, he said, from California.

The advantage of shipment by water via San Pedro also has been suggested.

The backers of Siegel are men who have been in the furniture business in Michigan for 25 years. The concern is an old-established one, which knows the manufacturing of furniture thoroughly.

REALTY BROKERS' PICNIC SUCCESS

Real estate brokers of Santa Ana who attended the annual picnic of the Southern California Real Estate Dealers' Picnic association at Riverside Saturday were declaring to friends today that it was one of the biggest and most successful annual reunions of the association.

Pomona was selected as the host city for the next year, inasmuch as Clyde Gage and W. C. Anderson, both of that city, were named president and secretary. One vice-president was named from each county in the association as follows:

Max Smith, Santa Ana; W. H. Reed, San Bernardino; C. L. Crick, Pasadena; R. M. Chapman, Escondido; Thomas Flaherty, Riverside; E. A. DeBolis, Brawley; Earl G. Ruggles, Oxnard; Norman E. McPadden, Santa Barbara; Freeman H. Bloodgood and Everett A. White, of this city, delivered addresses. C. L. Seagraves, general colonization agent of the Santa Fe lines, declared that the next five years would see greater development in vacant lands in California than had been made in the past.

The sports program included foot races for men, women and children, boxing exhibition with six children in the ring at one time, automobile, horse and mule races and so-called game of indoor baseball.

Carl Mock and H. F. Krueger, both salesmen with Shaw and Russell, won first and second prizes in the men's foot race; John Newcomer was second in the fat men's race, and H. J. Selway was the lucky man in the drawing for a wrist watch.

Mrs. Sharp took her daughters and Miss Janks to Tujunga for the week-end. Friends from Los Angeles joined them Saturday evening and they attended a dancing party at La Crescenta.

Mrs. Phelps has been removed from the local sanitarium to her home on Court street.

EVENING SALUTATION

Provision is the foundation of hospitality, and thrift the fuel of magnificence.—Sir P. Sidney.

TRIMMING THE FLAG

Betsy Ross, it appears, made a mistake when she sewed the first American flag together. She was all right about the colors, the bunching of white stars on a blue field and the alternation of white and red stripes, but she went wrong on ratios. The flag is, if the subsequent flag-makers really followed Betsy's original.

The flag as it floats today has a ratio of length to breadth of 1.90 to 1, and this, says the Fine Arts Commission, is a false ratio. Thus, in spite of the glorious glow of the old flag, and all the patriotic spirit in its rippling folds, its dimensions are very bad art.

The Fine Arts Commission, therefore, urges that the length of the flag, compared with the width, be made 1.67 to 1, which is the same as 5 to 3.

Simple ratios are the best, architects are always saying. They prefer to make the rooms of a house 3 to 4, 3 to 5, 2 to 3, etc., rather than get into complicated fractions. And they seem to be right. Rooms shaped on that principle certainly do look better and give more lasting satisfaction. Perhaps it is the same with flags, although up to this time Americans have never found it much of a strain to look at the Stars and Stripes. Art must be preserved, provided patriotism does not suffer. But for a long time to come, the flag would look strangely stumpy with the end snipped off.

A diamond ring will brighten a girl's eyes and yet leave her mind as dull as ever.—Toledo Blade.

PREVENTIVE NURSING

A new school of nursing recently established at Yale University and maintained by funds from the Rockefeller Foundation presents two striking changes from the usual nurses' training course. The period of training is to be shortened and the course is to include public health and community work as well as bedside nursing.

In order to shorten the period of training without weakening the course, the basis of work on hospital wards will be shifted from the labor needs of the hospital—cleaning, bed-making, etc.—to the educational requirements of the pupil nurse. She will learn to do those manual things, of course, but all such service will follow a definite program of teaching and practice more closely than at present.

The recognition of the nurse's relation to public health and community problems is an advance in nursing ideals. Curative and preventive medicine now work side by side for the good of individual patients and for their fellow-citizens.

The doctors and nurses are not working themselves out of jobs but are changing their work to emphasize disease prevention. They are devoted and competent to care for the sick, but they would rather use their knowledge to keep people well in the first place.

The fashions have become so freaky and contrary it wouldn't surprise us much to see the dear girls wearing cowhide boots next summer.—Portland Press Herald.

A FINGERPRINTED WORLD

At the recent international police conference in New York it was proposed that every person in every civilized country be fingerprinted to facilitate police work. The suggestion was warmly received and attempts will be made to secure such legislation or action as may be necessary in the various countries to make the plan effective.

The police and detective forces of the world have found the fingerprint the most satisfactory and dependable means of identification. It is used in the identification of missing persons and of criminals, and in proving citizenship where all other proofs have been lost. The identity of heirs could be established easily in many cases, were the custom of fingerprinting more common. The dead who otherwise might go unclaimed to the potter's field could be returned to their own people for decent burial. And these are only part of the purposes which can be served by this art.

Police are practical men. Those who have been in session in New York represent the best of their profession from all over the world. Their recommendations are not made from sentiment but from cold, impersonal knowledge. They reserve all necessary support to put them through.

Lord Robert says the League of Nations can get along very well without America. Then why doesn't it?—Toledo Blade.

FOR LACK OF TREES

Says the head of a state forestry association: "Farmers are paying millions of dollars annually for posts that could be raised on idle acres of their farms." They are paying millions, too, for fuel and for building lumber that could be grown, with little cost or care, on their own land.

"Foolish farmers!" says the city man. "They always were a thrifless lot."

And perhaps this same city man, just because he will not take the trouble to plant shade trees on his lawn, is paying good money unnecessarily for porch and window awnings. Also, he may be buying his children expensive lawn swings instead of raising a tree and a rope swing in the back yard, and he is probably buying large quantities of fruit that he could get for nothing if he would put in a few fruit trees or berry bushes.

A traffic cop says a little tact will make speeders slow down. Doesn't he mean tack?

THE OFFENSIVE GARBAGE CAN

It was such a pretty back yard, with shrubbery along the fence, flowers in front of the shrubbery and a great old fig in the center. It looked like an ideal spot in which to spend a summer afternoon or evening. But the family could not enjoy it much because the next door neighbor's garbage can was so offensive.

"It's just dreadful!" the little wife explained, with tears in her eyes. "They never wash their garbage can. They never put disinfectant in it. The cover is never on. On hot days the big green flies buzz around it and it smells so we can't sit out here at all. I can't understand it, for their front yard looks lovely."

Why don't you report it to the health department?" asked her visitor. "Oh," she said, "I don't like to do that. It seems unkind to make trouble for a neighbor."

So there they were. Good neighbors on one side of the fence, bad on the other. Of course, as a public duty and a health measure, somebody will report that filthy garbage can which daily and nightly gives the lie to the front yard pledges of its owner's respectability. But how much nicer it would be if the owner himself remedied the matter without such intervention. How much nicer it would be if all neighbors everywhere would remember that this is one of the summer problems, and that a clean, well-covered, inoffensive garbage can is not only a possibility but is one of the supreme tests of decent citizenship, good breeding and neighborliness.

Plea For Canyon Road

Riverside Press.

The Press in a recent editorial urged the importance of improvements on the road from Palm Springs to Palm Canyon; and the following editorial from the Long Beach Press shows how the present situation is viewed by visitors to that famous resort.

Palm canyon, under direct supervision of the United States government as part of an Indian reservation, is grievously neglected as to accommodations essential to seeing this wonder of nature without being worn out in getting into and leaving the canyon.

Autoists who visit Palm canyon—particularly on holidays and on Sundays—are discommoded very greatly by the arrangements—or lack of arrangements—for entering the canyon by automobile. The road is not paved, or graded.

There are no improvements of any kind upon the one line of roadway reaching up to the vista of the palms—one of the natural wonders of this wonderful region.

There should be a paved roadway into the canyon. There should be two driveways, or several turnouts, so that autoists could go and depart without confusion and without blocking each other in the roadway.

The Long Beach paper seems to have the impression that the road should be improved by the Indian service. As a matter of fact, however, what has been done already has been done by Riverside county and whatever is done in the future will have to be financed in the same way. A paved road would be a fine thing but that is not a necessity. If the present road were graded and gravelled, it could be made very satisfactory; and the cost of that type of improvement would not be a large sum.

Palm canyon is absolutely unique; there is nothing else like it in the United States; and hundreds of tourists visit the canyon now and see the wonderful grove of native palms. With a fairly good road many more would visit the place. The canyon is made more accessible from Riverside, Los Angeles and other points now that the state highway is paved from Banning to Whitman; and it is up to Riverside county to do its part in providing a more usable road from Palm Springs to the canyon.

By all means the budget for highway work for 1923-24 should include provision for the improvement of the mile of road connecting the state highway with the paved road to Palm Springs and for at least a reasonable start on the road to the canyon.

A Missouri Compromise

San Bernardino Sun.

Among the curios produced by legislatures in our various States during the season now closing, the most awe-inspiring is the effort of a lawmaker rejoicing in the moniker of J. Dal Swiers. The proposed legislation which died with adjournment of the Missouri Legislature included a measure promoted by the said Swiers to declare the Ten Commandments and the league of nations legal in Missouri and to repeal all other laws.

The common reaction to momentary speechlessness in the presence of so much nobility in a single piece of legislation will be a vague wonder what would happen if the constitutional restriction of the treaty making power of States were lifted long enough to admit Missouri to the league. There would be certain interesting possibilities implied in the State's right to carry her neighborhood quarrels to Geneva and to attempt to sway the moral pressure of the British Empire, et al., against the sovereign States of Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Regarding another item in the Swiers chef d'oeuvre, it is to be regretted that it was not given its day in the general court of Missouri in order that the world might learn what a typical politically-minded Legislature can think up in the way of amendments to the Ten Commandments. Thirdly, the repeal of all existing law has its engaging aspects. It would be interesting to know how Missouri would go about ordering a grade separation or fixing a salary, for example on the strength of the Decalogue and the covenant of the league.

All in all, a rare opportunity to add to the general gallery of existence appears to have been overlooked in Missouri.

Putting Them On Honor

San Bernardino Sun.

California is adopting a mild phase of the honor system in handling prisoners, which has been used with greater success and to a greater extent in Colorado than elsewhere. We get this out of the Fresno Bee.

Twelve men serving sentences in the Fresno County jail for offenses ranging from "plain drunks" to grand larceny were paroled yesterday and started on their way to fish canneries in Alaska.

The men compose the second batch which recently has left Fresno county jail under contract to spend six months in the Alaska fisheries and one of many other batches of prisoners released from the jails of Sacramento, Stockton, Merced, Oakland, and San Francisco, according to Richard K. Stewart, local attorney who assisted Rudolph Ferrall, agent of the Alaska Packers' Association, in making the arrangements for the parole of the men.

Every day in every way some of the relations of life are growing better and better. None of these prisoners is in the class of desperate criminals, for some of them, at least, this may be a way to "find themselves," while it will be infinitely better for all of them to be at work in Alaska than to be in jail in California. The terms of the contract under which they go provides for good pay for the summer's work, in addition to transportation both ways and their living, they become useful members of society rather than the opposite, and all in all, it is a happy idea. Some of them will probably not make good, some of them may break away even before the steamer sails from San Francisco, but some of them will make good, and it is worth the experiment. The results on the prison farms and in the road camps in Colorado reads like a romance.

The Wrong Bait

"Out of Control"

John Blake in S. F. Journal

When the skipper of any vessel, big or little, sees mastheaded on another craft a large red ball he gives her all the room she wants. For the red ball means "Not under control," and a ship which is not under control is a menace to any other ship that happens to be in the neighborhood.

It is rather curious that the average human being hoists the same sort of danger signal when not under control.

Sometimes the color is red, sometimes white, of the human signal. Sometimes it means anger, sometimes terror.

But invariably it is there, plain to be seen, and a warning to others that the person who displays it must either be avoided or taken in charge.

Normally the brain operates the body, controlling the muscles easily through messages flashed along the nerves.

But rage or fear makes a difference. In neither state can a man or woman, perfectly dependable before, be trusted for a second.

Many men who in their right senses would never think of doing so much as an unkindness become unreasoning brutes when they are angry—brutes who seem to delight in the injury to others.

Rage, however, has an effective antidote. Give the angriest man a taste of his own brutality and he will soon become tractable. The bully subsides instantly the minute he meets a bigger bully, or a brave man who is physically able to hurt him.

While rage is even more cowardly than fear, both should be sternly suppressed.

As to anger, that is a passion that is soon cured, if there is a policeman around. If there is no policeman and the man who is addicted to it does not himself suppress it, he will sooner or later get into trouble. And even if he should escape, the poison of anger will destroy him, in one way or another, sooner or later.

Worth While Verse

TO THE UNKNOWN SOUL

O, soul that somewhere art my very kin,
From dusk and silence unto thee I call!
I know not where thou dwellest; if within A palace or a hut; if great or small Thy state and store of fortune; if thou'rt sad
This moment, or most glad;
And loneliness of mind; long liest thrall.

But well I know—since thou'rt my counterpart—
Thou heart'st a clouded spirit, full of doubt
And old misgiving, heaviness of heart
With climbing stairs that lead to nothing sure,
And loneliness of mind; long wearied out
With chasing lights that lure,
In the thick murk that wraps us all about.

As across many instruments a flute
Breathes low, and only thrills its selfsame tone,
That wakes in music while the rest are mute,
So send thy voice to me! Then I alone
Shall hear and answer, and we two will fare
Together, and each bear
Twin burdens, lighter now than either one.
—Edward Rowland Sill.

DO HOWLS 'OWL?

A woman of rather apprehensive disposition took a new maid into the country. The maid was a cockney, and determined to find the country unpleasant. The first morning after her arrival she called her mistress, who asked her how she slept.

"Couldn't sleep a wink, mum; didn't you hear the howls?"

"Gracious me!" said the mistress, perturbed. "I hope nothing was wrong. I can't think who could have been howling outside our house in the middle of the night."

"No, mum; it wasn't anybody 'owling; it was the howls."—Chicago News.

I wasn't allowed out after supper yesterday on account of being kind to dum animals.

The dum animal being a unsatisfied looking horse standing outside of our house attached to a huckster waggin when I came home from the store with 3 pounds of cooking apples for ma to make a pie with, and I stood there looking at the horse a while and the horse stood there with its head down as if it didn't care what happened, me thinking, G, the poor horse, I bet if it smelt a apple under its nose right now it would think somebody was giving it a surprise party.

And I took a apple out of the bag and stuck it under the horse's nose, and the horse opened his mouth so quick I jest got my hand away in time, and it ate the apple moving its jaws more sideways than up and down like other people and then it held its head up as if it felt much better, so I gave it another apple and it kept on looking at the bag till I gave it 3 more, making 5 altogether, and then I took the rest in the house on account of the bag starting to feel too lite, and ma was making the dough in the kitchen, me saying, Ha ma, you awt to see the poor sad looking horse standing outside of our house.

O the poor thing, somebody awt to give it a drink of water, ma sed.

The Orange County Celery association this year distributed about $450,000 to its members.

The two school bond issues carried yesterday after having been defeated twice. The vote yesterday was: For the $50,000 grammar school bonds, 808; against, 176. For the $25,000 high school bonds, 699; against, 270. The school board will buy the lots on the south side of Tenth street adjoining the high school. Two school buildings will likely be erected, one in the northeast and the other in the northwest part of the city. H. Clay Kellogg has presented figures showing the center of school children population in the northwest part of the city to be at Van Ness and Orchard streets, and the northeast part center is Washington street and the S. P. Kellogg said there are more children in the district than in any other part of the city. The school board has not yet selected sites.

The Playgrounds Movement

Contributed by Mildred E. Wiley, Director of Community Service, City Hall, Santa Ana.

The play movement in our country is not as new or as modern as some people believe. In fact it is 102 years old, the first outdoor gymnasium or playground, in the United States being constructed in Boston in 1821. There has been a gradual development, but extremely slow, of outdoor activities from that date to the present time.

Some one has aptly said, "Leisure is time's most precious gift to man." How are we utilizing it? What provision are we making for the proper use of our children's leisure time?

Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state says: "The successful worker must have the spirit of play in his heart, and the successful man is only a boy with a man's experience. * * * We want playgrounds for our children in order that we may conserve the health and morals of our people * * * in order that we may aid in the development of the sentiment of honor."

The beloved Theodore Roosevelt was an example of a man who played. In his own life he demonstrated what a strong spirit, what vigorous, happy athletic effort can do to make a man's life efficient, to give a man abundant life. Throughout all his years, no man more than he embodied the spirit of play. In speaking of the Chicago recreation centers he said: "Playgrounds are a necessary means for the development of wholesome citizenship in modern cities; the Chicago playgrounds are the greatest civic achievement the world has ever seen."

That the recreation and playground movement has become national is well recognized. The development has been phenomenal since the war. In 1921 nine million dollars was spent for recreation outside the movies and playgrounds were established in 500 cities where 1,000,000 boys and girls were able to enjoy the benefits.

The most serious business in life for at least one-fifth of Santa Ana's population is PLAY. This one-fifth represents the children of public school age, approximately 5,000 in number. They would make a small sized town in themselves. For these 5,000 children PLAY is something more than mere fun. Play is the necessary venting of the expanding life energies of the boy and girl. It is vital to the city as well as to the children themselves, because unless this play life is normal and abundant, the city cannot expect active, intelligent, and effective citizens. Furthermore the kind of recreation demanded by adults is largely determined by the opportunities for recreation afforded during their childhood.

One playground, one acre in size can accommodate 500 children, if supervised. One supervisor if well trained can successfully take care of 250 children. With 5,000 children in the city of Santa Ana, we would need at this rate not less than 10 playgrounds, occupying not less than 10 or 12 acres with 20 trained supervisors in charge.

This is the ideal playground system with present child population to be attained in Santa Ana. However few projects of any kind ever reached the goal for which they are aspiring, also we must take into consideration the fact that not all of the 5,000 odd children in the city are playing at one and the same time.

Therefore Community Service of Santa Ana is planning to start, through the co-operation of several civic clubs, four large playgrounds, with a small amount of equipment, under the personal supervision of the Director of Community Service.

Because of limitations imposed upon members of the regular army in the wearing of medals and decorations with civilian clothes, there has been considerable misunderstanding concerning the rights of ex-service men in this regard. To clear up this misunderstanding, the secretary of war has issued a statement to the effect that it does not, and never has claimed, any jurisdiction over ex-service men in this matter. Furthermore, the secretary of war expresses it as his opinion to be very desirable that ex-service men wear authorized medals and decorations upon all appropriate occasions with any kind of civilian clothes.

All PLAY is directed—Some forms are guided by the local rowdy or gang leader on vacant lots, back yards, streets and alleys, other forms are guided by trained workers along educational lines. It is merely a question of who directs. Benefits of play may be tested by these questions—Is the play of the child preparing him for his future work? Is your recreation returning you to your work better prepared to carry it on?

"Give them a chance for innocent sport.
Give them a chance for fun
Better a playground plot,
Than a court and jail when the harm is done.

Give them a chance; if you stint them now
Tomorrow you will have to pay
A larger bill for a greater ill
So please give them a chance to play."

Lone Star State

By Berton Braley

As soon as you lay your eyes on
This state with the wide horizon,
There's a sense of space
On the roads you trace
Far over the rolling plains;
And the wind has a zest that's keener.

And a land that is sweeter, cleaner,
Where the long-horns roam
'Neath the blue sky's dome
O'er an empire of vast domains.

Afar from the crowds which vex us,
There's room and enough in Texas
For a man to range
In the search for change
When he's restless with "Things That Are."

A country of huge expanses,
A land of a million chances,
Where the stakes are steep
And new cities leap
To life like a flaming star!

A land of a primal vigor
Where the lean, lank men bulk
As tigers,
And the girls are lithe
And their smiles are blithe
With a health and a joy elate;
Oh, your blood has a swifter tingle

Where the west and the south commingle,
And the broad plain smiles
For a thousand miles
To the "hounds of the Lone Star State!"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 4—WHAT THE RAGSIES DO.

"Now then!" said Mister Tatters, the leader of the Ragsies in Raggy Land. "Everybody knows everybody else, so that's off my mind. Now for business. Do you know you have come to the busiest place on this square earth?" he said to the Twins.

"Why, the earth is round!" cried Nancy. "It says so in the geography books."

"Oh, is it? Excuse me," said Mister Tatters, winking at Raggy Tag. "Well, anyway it makes no difference whether it is round or square or three cornered, it keeps us Ragsies so busy at this time of year, we haven't time to eat three round meals a day."

"But meals are square! You always speak of square meals," corrected Nancy again.

"Oh, are they? Excuse me," answered Mister Tatters, winking at Raggy Tag.

"What are you so busy about?" asked Nig, curious as usual.

"Spring cleaning!" said Mister

"Spring cleaning!" cried Nancy, clapping her hands. "That's fun! May we help? We helped Mr. Rubadub one time to spring clean the animals that came back from Dreamland where they had spent the winter. It was lots of fun."

"This is entirely different," explained Mr. Tatters. "We spring clean places for the animals and birds to come to. Also we help the spring fairies in every way. You can't hang up clean lace curtains until the house is scrubbed, and neither can the spring fairies scatter their pretty blossoms and flowers around until the woods and meadows and orchards are cleaned up."

"That's what we Ragsies do! We spring clean all outdoors. But you certainly may help if you wish. Our first job is to fix up Mr. Scarecrow for the summer. We are leaving at once."
